Emmons School joins annexation petition

By MICHAEL H. BABICZ
Community Editor

Emmons School wants in the village.

There is one catch, however. The only way that can happen is with the annexation of the proposed Diamond Development at Beach Grove Road and Route 59.

The Emmons School Board of Education unanimously passed a resolution at its Oct. 19 meeting to become part of the annexation petition for the 80 acres.

In the resolution, the board states it is aware new housing development will occur within the district. "It is the responsibility of the Emmons Board to prepare for the future to preserve the quality of the education and environment of Emmons School," the resolution states.

Annexation into the village "is in the best long term interest of the school district," according to the resolution.

Diamond Development's presentation to the board included a change in the density of the homes from the original 160 presented to the Antioch plan commission to 120 upscale homes.

A five year moratorium on building is included in the revised plan.

"The whole reason we're discussing this is Emmons School is not contiguous with the village unless the Diamond Development comes in," Mayor Marilyn Shineflug explained.

Bob Silhan, village director of planning, zoning and building, updated the board on the annexation issue.

"The likelihood of expanding the sanitary sewer to the school isn't likely unless the 80 acres are developed," Silhan explained.

Silhan explained the plans which were presented by Steve Thelen and

We're under the basic premise that the land will be developed one way or another. These are local developers the board feels they can work with'

Mark Tabor
Emmons school superintendent

Kim Meyer of Diamond Development to the school board are not the same as those originally brought before the plan commission. The plan commission voted unanimously ly against the original proposal.

"We don't have a revised petition at this time," Silhan said. "The original petition which went before the zoning board has not officially been withdrawn. It's in limbo."

The next step for that petition would be to come before the village board for consideration. At this time, it would come with a negative recommendation from the plan commission.

"An amended or revised petition might be in their (Diamond's) best interest," Silhan admits.

The current petition called for a development of 160 homes which has caused concern among residents regarding the estimated demand placed upon the sewer system. The reduction of the number of homes draws that demand down to what is anticipated ed to be a more acceptable level.

"The amount of homes in the development is going to be considerably less," said Barry McMahon, vice president of KLM Builders who is an officer for Diamond Development. "Originally, it was going to be 160 to 180 homes, now it is 100 to 120. Building would not begin for five years."

"The school would get the benefit of city sewer and water," McMahon added.

Emmons School District 33 Superintendent Matt Tabar said attorneys for both the school district and the developers are working on an agreement.

Regarding the sewer and water lines coming to the school, the present well and septic system is able

Second bomb threat causes school closing

Letter to parents requests support

By MICHAEL H. BABICZ
Community Editor

For the second Friday in a row, a bomb threat was phoned into Antioch Community High School. And for the second time in two weeks, classes for the day were called off.

A bomb threat called into the school attendance answering machine at 10 p.m. Oct. 28 resulted in another day of canceled classes at the high school.

The call was discovered by school staff who routinely check the machine in the morning upon their arrival. The call was discovered at 6:45 a.m., according to Antioch Police Chief Charlie Watkins.

We're not going to tolerate bomb threats and we will treat any, even if they're supposed to be a joke, very seriously'

Dennis Hockney
ACHS superintendent

School administration made the decision to cancel classes at approximately 7 a.m.

Police, fire and school officials made another search of the building, just as they had done seven days earlier.

"Nothing was found," said Bill Ahlers, ACHS business manager.

Indian summer fishing trip results in drowning death

By MICHAEL H. BABICZ
Community Editor

On a beautiful Indian summer evening, two friends decided to take advantage of the weather and do some fishing.

Unfortunately, the unseasonably warm evening ended in tragedy.

A 24-year-old Fox Lake man drowned while on a canoe fishing trip on Lake Marie in Antioch.

The initial report of a person in the water came in at 10:46 p.m. Friday, Oct. 29. Following a two-hour search Friday night, and an additional 45 minute search Saturday morning, the body was recovered at 8:46 a.m.

An estimated 12 to 15 divers from Antioch, Lake Villa, Fox Lake, Spring Grove and Round Lake fire departments participated in the search, according to Jim Robinson,

Lighthouse beams hope

Church building home for different congregations

By MICHAEL H. BABICZ
Community Editor

A lighthouse is often thought of as a beacon of hope to a ship lost at sea.

The Lighthouse Church of Antioch's beacons stream out three different directions.

"How many Christians can you squeeze into a lighthouse?" is the topic of an article in "The Signal Light" October newsletter by Tom Bartmer, senior pastor for the Lighthouse Church.

Baptist, Lutheran and Korean Baptist congregations each have their own services during the course of a weekend.

The building, located at 554 Parkway in Antioch, one block west of Route 83 (Main Street) and North Avenue, used to belong to the Calvary Baptist Church founded in the 1950s.

"The building is being used to its fullest potential, for the work of Christ," Bartmer said with a big smile.

An evening walk by Lutheran Pastor Darald Gruen's wife, Sharon, found the building sitting unoccupied, which it was for about four to five years.

"We were newly formed and were looking for a place to worship," Gruen said. Even though the building was owned by the Baptist Church, Gruen's Lutheran congregation actually kept the building open.

Bartmer had a group of four or five people who were meeting for Bible study affiliated with the Southern Baptist Convention and the Lake County Baptist Churches Association.

"Basically, we put our resources together and put our trust in the association that when the next Baptist church would start, they would purchase the building," Bartmer said.

The prayers of Bartmer and his small group meeting for Bible studies were answered. That was two years ago, with the Lighthouse congregation celebrating its second annual meeting Oct. 30.

"When planning services, we wanted to see what the community would like so we went door to door,"

Village making code simpler for builders

By MICHAEL H. BABICZ
Community Editor

Keep it simple.

A common motto is being adopted by the Antioch village building department.

The village board unanimously authorized at its Nov. 1 meeting the village attorney to draw up a new ordinance regarding the village's building code for one and two family dwellings.

In the past, the village included both the BOCA Code and the CABO code within its own village regulations.

This was causing some confusion for developers and builders regarding which code was to be used.

Bob Silhan, village director of planning, zoning and building, explained to the board by state statute municipalities are required to have as restrictive regulations as the county code.

Lake County goes by the 1993 BOCA Code, according to Silhan.

The village's elimination of the CABO code portion within its regulations will make it "simpler and more stringent" by going with the BOCA Code which is used by the county as well.

The expected new ordinance is anticipated to come before the village board at its next regularly scheduled meeting 7:30 p.m. Monday, Nov. 15.

Chamber spearheading industrial forum meeting

By MICHAEL H. BABICZ
Community Editor

Industrial issues is the focus of a special meeting called by the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

The meeting is scheduled 8 a.m. Friday, Nov. 12 at the Chamber Office, 884 Main Street, in Antioch.

State, township, village and Chamber officials have been invited with members of the Antioch industrial business community to discuss issues relating specifically to the industrial community.

Among items to be discussed according to Chamber officials are the State of Illinois' traffic flow plans within Antioch, a proposed industrial park in the Antioch area and village plans for improvements within existing industrial areas.

For further information or to join the Chamber, contact the Chamber Office 395-2233.

LIGHTHOUSE: Different faiths band together

Bartmer explained. "We found out people worked long hours and weekends were like gold to families."

People were concerned with a late morning or early afternoon service, a majority of their Sunday was gone.

"We wanted to be sensitive to the needs of the parishioners, so we decided on a Saturday evening service," Bartmer admitted.

The decision to go with a Saturday evening service allowed the existing Lutheran church service to continue Sunday mornings.

"That worked out for the Beautiful Savior Lutheran Church," Bartmer explained.

"We met with the Lutheran church leaders and saw no reason why we could not work together," Bartmer said. The two have jointly existed since 1997 with no conflict. Beautiful Savior Lutheran celebrated its third year anniversary Oct. 13.

"The congregation has been growing which has become more of a challenge," Bertram admitted of the Lighthouse group.

In late September of this year, a third beam of light joined The Lighthouse.

John Lim approached Bertram and petitioned the church for holding a Korean language congregation.

Another area church sponsored Lim's congregation, but they had no place to meet.

"We brought the idea before the church and they were very happy," Bartmer explained.

A weekday schedule of services at the Lighthouse begins at 7 p.m.; Saturdays: 7 p.m. worship service for Lighthouse Baptist; Sundays: 9 a.m. Lutheran service; 1 p.m. New Hope (Korean) Baptist Church. A organ and piano contained within the worship area is used by all three services.

Various other meetings, bible studies, support groups and others keeping the Lighthouse light beaming throughout the day and into the evenings seven days per week.

The Lighthouse congregation is technically "independent." In reality, it is providing the basis for a great blending of Christians.

"If you sat in on the services, you could probably come for 10 weeks before you would notice much of a difference," Gruen said. "I'd rather focus on all of us being brothers and sisters through the blood of Jesus."

"Ninety-nine percent of what we believe is exactly the same," Gruen said. "On all of the central issues, the triumvirate God, we're basically the same. Some of the traditions we understand differently. If you went over our readings verse by verse, they'd probably be the same."

"We're all plain ordinary people," Gruen added.

Lim admits having the Sunday afternoon service works out for his people. "Many in the Korean population work late on Saturday," Lim said. "That way they can sleep long on Sunday. That's better for them than having a morning service."

Lim began in Mundelein with the New Life Baptist Church. Primarily, the attendance at Lighthouse has been limited to Lim's family and another family.

Lim's sons, 14-year-old Daniel and 11-year-old Paul, have expressed their displeasure with taking up much of the Sunday afternoon with church or related service events including a meal.

Referred to as "a church planter," Lim came to the United States as a student at Maryland University Dec. 4, 1973. Lim came to Chicago at the same time period. While in the area, Lim attended Southwestern Baptist University Seminary in Missouri where he graduated in 1997. Since graduating, Lim has been doing church planting which he has two Baptist Churches underway in Mundelein and Winthrop Harbor.

"We're all Christians and believe in Jesus Christ," Lim said, who also has his wife, Man, at his side.

A joint service of all three congregations is being worked on for the future.

In the meantime, the spiritual light is beaming brightly from the Lighthouse in Antioch.

EMMONS: Joins petition to handle the school's current population. The agreement would include a provision which would have the developer paying for new lines at such time the district sees a need.

Besides the additional village sewer and water, Tabar said the school sees the advantage of having village services including police. The Antioch DARE program does come to Emmons even though it is technically out of their jurisdiction.

"We're under the basic premise that the land will be developed one way or another," Tabar explained. "These are local developers the board feels they can work with. By having an agreement, we have some control in how quickly and with what type of homes the area is developed."

No set timetable has been established by Diamond Development for submitting a revised pre-annexation agreement to the village. There is a possibility Diamond would have some type of communication with the village prior to the end of the year.

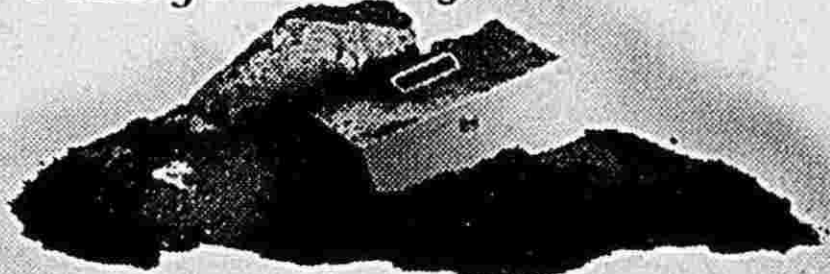

DROWNING: Man drowns

Antioch divemaster.

The victim, Todd A. Talbot, originally of Mundelein where his parents still reside and most recently from Fox Lake, was pronounced dead at 9:25 a.m., according to Lake County Coroner Barbara Richardson.

Talbot and Christopher Nystrom were aboard a canoe fishing, according to Richardson.

'Suspicious' call received at W.C. Petty

By MICHAEL H. BABICZ
Community Editor

Classes were momentarily delayed at W.C. Petty School in Antioch on Nov. 1.

A "suspicious phone call" was received on the school's answering machine, according to District 34 Superintendent Daniel Burke.

The call came in at 1:14 a.m. Nov. 1 with a long message lasting between four and five minutes.

"Either the person was calling from a party or a bar," Burke explained, based upon the background noise and voices which were audible.

The word "bomb threat" was heard in the background, but was not spoken into the receiver.

Antioch Police Officer Darrell Young, assigned as a police liaison to the school district, along with school administrators listened to the tape when it was discovered at about 7 a.m. Nov. 1.

It was determined by Young, along with the school administrators, to treat the call as "suspicious," but not as an actual bomb threat.

Custodians from Antioch Upper Grade School were called over to W.C. Petty to assist in a building check both inside and outside prior to students being allowed to enter the school.

Following the check, it was determined no forced entry had been made into the building over night. The building was deemed secure and students were allowed to enter.

"It just delayed the start of school by a few minutes," Burke said. Students were held on buses for less than five minutes while the building check was completed when they arrived for school.

The school day continued without any further interruption.

THREAT: ACHS gets second bomb scare following up on any possible leads just as they had done a week before. The investigation is continuing, according to Watkins.

The police investigation on the Oct. 22 phoned in bomb threat resulted in the arrest and charging of a 16-year-old ACHS student who had been suspended for truancy by the district.

The student was arraigned on disorderly conduct charges which comes under a Class 4 felony, according to Watkins and Assistant State's Attorney Mary Yarc, chief of the juvenile division for the Lake County State's Attorney's Office.

The case was found to have probable cause for charging the youth who appeared before Judge John G. Radseich. The youth was released on home detention pending a status of attorney hearing.

Superintendent Dennis Hockney, despite being out of town attending a testing conference in New York City, was in constant telephone contact with school officials back in Antioch.

Following a Nov. 1 briefing on how the situation was handled Oct. 29, Hockney said he was satisfied with how administrators, police and fire personnel conducted the building search. "There has been no change in the way the search is handled," Hockney said.

"We are sending a letter to the parents of all of the children in the school," Hockney explained. "Basically we're asking for their cooperation. We know we have a lot of good students in the school and it's a couple of bad ones who are causing the problem."

"We're not going to tolerate bomb threats and we will treat any, even if they're supposed to be a joke, very seriously," Hockney added.

Another threat was phoned into ACHS at approximately 8:30 a.m. Nov. 1.

This one was more specific with the caller saying the bomb was in one of the washrooms, according to Hockney.

Dr. James Love, principal, and Bill Ahlers, business manager, made the determination to pull the fire alarm and evacuate the building "like a fire drill."

A search was conducted by school authorities of the washrooms with nothing being found.

Students returned to classes within about 15 minutes, according to Hockney, and the school day continued "as normal."

The ACHS District 117 was among all school districts within Lake and McHenry counties invited to attend a Bomb Management Seminar Nov. 3 organized by the Regional Office of Education.

Edward J. Gonwa, regional superintendent, emphasized in communication with Lake County schools the need to have a minimum of one representative attend the conference.

Christian Values For A Lifetime

607 W. Belvidere Road. Grayslake, IL 60030 (847) 548 - LORD

There's more to fall than football

Fall is evidence enough that surely proves God is a female—no man would ever have created a season that demanded such upkeep on their yard. Those sprawling lawns that so attracted us to our residences when we first purchased them are now doing us in with their fall maintenance. It's time like these that one has to wonder why on earth trees were so important to us when we were touring the neighborhood with the real estate agent.

Although it is the natural circle of life that leaves turn red and yellow, couldn't the chain of events bypass the "fall off the tree" phase. Why not just let them sway in the breeze for several weeks until Door County's economy is satisfied, and once all the "color watching" tourists head home, they can turn back to green and wait out the winter.

It's the detaching themselves from the branches that cause all the problems. This phase serves no

JINGLE FROM PRINGLE

Lynn Pringle

purpose other than to bury dog poop for unsuspecting shoes and clog gutters on homes across the county. Raking in itself is such a thankless job. After you spend hours laboring to free your lawn from the pesky little varmints, you turn around to admire your days of labor only to find six inches of freshly fallen leaves dancing on your grass. It's a lot like snow shoveling, but at least you know if you wait three or four months, that will melt.

Leaves have an incredible will to live. If you do actually reach the burning stage, you have to make sure your pile is strategically placed so it can be burned with no yard repercussions, (i.e. scorched sod, burnt decking blistered paint, or unhappy neighbors).

And heaven help you if you have forgotten your matches and have to go inside to retrieve them. It is guaranteed that you will return to your mounded foliage only to find it scattered over a two mile radius by the neighborhood children who thought you left them a new yard toy.

Some owners mow them, some mulch them, some rake, pile and burn them. Unfortunately, there is a good number of land owners who do nothing and leave the raking to Mother Nature and a good stiff wind. This causes havoc to the conscientious neighbor who ends up mowing, mulching or raking all leaves left by the deadbeat homeowners in the subdivision. For the last 47 years the patriarch of this family has spent innumerable hours raking, piling and burning—no leaf has ever been left to lay on his five acres. This year though, nearing 80, the grandpa grows weary easily. So to save his strength for more worthwhile venues, he has thrown in the towel against the battle with the leaves. Now he too has taken the attitude that a good north wind will eventually provide him a leaf-free yard this fall. Unfortunately his neighbors to the south aren't real happy with the new development—I know, I hear about it every night at the dinner table.

And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle."

Readers with information for "Jingle from Pringle" should call Lynn Pringle at 395-6364.

Rathje vying for Supreme Court

Justice S. Louis Rathje made his candidacy for a full term on the state Supreme Court official with the distribution of nominating petitions to Republican precinct committeemen and friends in the 13 counties that comprise the 2nd Judicial District. The GOP primary election will be held on March 21, 2000 and nominating petitions must be filed this December.

Rathje has served on the court since late 1998 when he was selected to fill the vacancy created by the early retirement of Justice John Nickels. At the time Rathje was an appellate judge in the same district. Earlier he was a circuit judge in the 18th Circuit District.

"During the next six months I'll be securing support to win a full term on the court by stressing my 35 years experience in the legal profession, my record and the fact I've been both a lawyer and a judge at every level of the state judicial system—circuit, appellate and supreme courts," Rathje commented.

A 1964 graduate of Northwestern Law School, he earned his undergraduate degree at Wheaton College. Rathje's entire career is in the legal profession. In private practice for 28 years, he earned the highest rating for ability and ethics from the independent Martindale-Hubbell national law directory.

Since joining the Supreme Court, Rathje has written several majority opinions, including two upholding the constitutionality of Illinois' death penalty law. Earlier this year he received the General Excellence award from the Illinois Crime Commission.

A life-long Republican, Rathje grew up on a farm in a family where his mother was a Republican Committeeman and his father was Chief Judge of the 18th Circuit. As a youngster he was paralyzed by polio and had to learn to walk again. Thirty years later, after multiple surgeries, he was able to quit using a leg brace. In 1997, Rathje was honored as a State of Illinois "Outstanding 4-H Alumnus."

Prior to becoming a judge, Rathje was president of an award-winning Young Republican organization, and an elected precinct Republican committeeman for 22 years. He also served as the chairman of the Milton Township Republican organization and on the DuPage County Republican Executive Committee. He has been a special advisor to Speaker Dennis Hastert. He first joined the Illinois Federation of Republican Women more than 20 years ago.

Rathje lives in DuPage County with his wife Dr. Maria-Rosa Costanzo who is director of the Heart Failure and Cardiac Transplant program at Rush-Presbyterian St. Luke Medical Center.

Antioch chosen for Express Network

By MICHAEL H. BABICZ
Community Editor

Antioch is joining Express Network.

The American Business Women's Association (ABWA) has announced Antioch will have an Express Network.

The Express Network is a network of women which has its newsletter on line. A chat room is planned for the future, according to ABWA national headquarters.

An informational meeting will be held 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 14 at 1326 Main Street in Antioch.

ABWA representatives will be in attendance to explain the newsletter and benefits of joining the ABWA.

There will be four Express Networks located within the United States.

By being a charter member, persons will be included in the planning, organizing and election of charter officers plus other items.

For additional information, contact Marge Keenan-Denniston 816-3146.

I'm originally from: Schaumburg, also lived in Round Lake Beach before moving to Antioch this year.

I graduated from: Conant High School in Hoffman Estates and Western Illinois University

What I like best about my neighborhood: The small town atmosphere and friendliness of the people.

What I like best about my job: I love my job. I like the interaction with the families, working with the kids and watching them grow.

The secret to my success is: Hard work, dedication and long days.

I relax by: Bowling

My perfect day in Antioch would be: Spending time with my daughter in the backyard or shopping.

Favorite movie is: "Ghost"

Favorite restaurant: Lou Malnati's Pizzeria in Buffalo Grove

Favorite music: Country

If I won the lottery, I would: Continue working, but take a vacation. I would also use the money for my daughter's college education.

People who knew me in high school would say: I was shy.

I want to be remembered as: A wonderful mother and a caring person.

If I could change one thing about the world it would be: To make it a safer place to live and for the schools to be safer.

My dream job would be: To own my own preschool.

People would be most surprised to know this about me: I was a figure skater and performed with Scott Hamilton at shows at the Woodfield Mall.

If I had a plane ticket to anywhere, I would go to: London

by JIM WARNKEN, President, North Star Travel, Inc.

A common misconception is Hawaii has little to offer other than beautiful beaches. While the Hawaiian Islands are home to some of the most spectacular beaches in the world, the interior of the islands is what keeps me coming back. And what better way to explore the unique character of each island than by hiking?

Ancient trails will lead you along the sea through lush tropical rainforest, past waterfalls, across miles of recent black lava flows, through a still steaming crater, all the way to a frozen (yes, like in ice!) lake 10,000 feet above the sea.

Actually, some of the things Hawaii doesn't have makes hiking in Hawaii attractive. You find no snakes, no bears and no poison oak on any of the Hawaiian Islands.

Nature itself, though, may be the strongest reason for caution while adventuring off the beaten path. Hawaii is home to 21 of the world's 22 climatic zones, meaning changes in weather are quick and dramatic. An ill-prepared hiker can find the nature he seeks can turn on him in a matter of minutes.

As they used to tell us in Boy Scouts, be prepared. Check weather forecasts, pick up a good hiking-trail map at one of the local bookstores and, of course, bring water with you even on a short hike.

The best idea may be to join one of the many organized hikes offered by organizations such as the Sierra Club, the Hawaii Nature Center, The Nature Conservancy, as well as several tour operators.

For instance, Ken Schmitt of "Hike Maui" offers 50 different hikes during which you'll see rare birds in a native rainforest where you can pick berries and learn about medicinal herbs. You'll be able to shower in a waterfall and shampoo your hair with awapuhi ginger. You'll have lunch at an altitude of 10,000 feet with a breathtaking view of Maui. Schmitt, who is also a teacher of natural history, charges anywhere from $70 to $120 per person for hikes, during which you will also get a real education on Hawaiian culture.

Jan Roberts of "Adventure Spirit Hawaii" offers hikes on both the Big Island, as well as tours on Kauai. Since Roberts is a nutritionist, she emphasizes natural vegetarian foods, yoga and a spiritual connection to the natural world.

Again, don't hesitate to plan your own hiking adventure. I've personally found most trails to be well marked, but always bring a trail map and be prepared for rapid weather changes.

THE CLIPBOARD

John Phelps

Baby you're the best!

I'll never forget meeting Walter Payton some nine years ago when I was assistant beverage director at Shoreacres Golf Club in Lake Bluff.

The popular Sara Lee Golf Outing was taking place and the man we call 'Sweetness' was one of many current and former marquee names on the bill that afternoon.

I had approached him for an autograph, along with our sous and head chef. I can't recall who was taking the photo, but I had the honor of standing in the middle right beside Walter.

And in an effort to get me, as well as my colleagues to smile, Sweetness had wrapped his arm around my left side and started tickling me to the point where I almost cried from laughing so hard.

From that point on, I realized how this guy, soft voice and all, carried on the nickname of 'Sweetness' as it pertains to off-the-field shenanigans.

Former Bear and teammate Al Harris said it perfectly the other day on The Score, WSCR. We are only here a short period of time. With all of the great icons passing away in the last two weeks, we are truly mortal.

Well, Payton was not only a prankster off the field but the man would breeze by you in a heartbeat while suiting with the Chicago Bears for 13 years. He did that quite often, as the Hall of Famer still holds many NFL rushing records, including the record for all-time career rushing yardage.

Louise Johnson, receptionist and switchboard operator for the Bears from 1981-1998, recounts many fond memories of Sweetness.

"He was such a prankster," said Johnson from her home in Antioch.

"He used to come up behind me while I was working and grab me by the neck and give me a big kiss on the cheek. But that's the kind of guy he was. He was very available and loveable and will be missed tremendously."

Johnson also recalls when Sweetness would relieve her from phone duties.

"Because of that soft-spoken voice, he would answer the phone and impersonate me," she recalls.

Furthermore, "Walter would run by and pinch some of the big-whigs that would come into the office. They would soon find out who it was but the initial reaction was hilarious. It was the way he was. Very intense but always trying to make you laugh."

Well, now Sweetness is now playing a few pranks in football heaven.

Better watch out St. Peter. If he has the same effect up there as he did down there, you are in for the time of your life!

When Sweetness broke the all-time rushing record some 10 years or so ago, Carly Simon said it perfectly-Baby you're the best!

Sequiot soccer concludes history making season

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

It's been an unforgettable fall sports season on the north suburban campus of Antioch High School.

And the varsity boys soccer team did its part in adding to the equation. Despite falling last Saturday to Libertyville 2-0 in the Grayslake Sectional title game, the Sequoit booters turned in one of the best performances in school history.

Antioch, by advancing to the sectional finals, went farther than any team in the school's history. Furthermore, the team finished with a school-best 16-4-3 record.

"This was a great season and we have nothing to be ashamed of," said head coach Charlie Trout. "Tonight, we played a hard-fought game against a quality opponent."

Senior forward and all-state candidate Matt Miclea was marked well by the Wildcats on Saturday but nonetheless, rewrote the Sequoit record books this season, including a school-best and single-season best 34 goals.

Libertyville had beaten the Sequoits by the same count earlier in the season.

Scoring chances were few and far between then and that was the tone for Saturday's rematch.

After a scoreless first half, Libertyville (16-3-3) found two openings in the Sequoit defense as Marc Paraczak scored from 15 yards out off of an assist by Brandon Harpe. Four minutes later, the Wildcats scored their second goal when R.J. Pyter's throwin was headed in by Chris Manzardo.

"We kind of let down our guard in the second half and they took advantage of the scoring opportunities," noted Trout. "What also hurt us was when Jason Prorok went down in the first half. That changed our offensive scheme. But overall, I think we did as many nice things as they did."

Trout is referring to his senior midfielder, who was hit above the eye, causing a severe gash that required several stitches.

Libertyville outshot the Sequoits 9-8 for the contest and Sequoit keeper Nick Placko recorded six saves in the losing effort.

Antioch earned the right to face Libertyville after posting a grueling victory over Cary-Grove. With the score even after 80 minutes of play and two 10-minute overtime sessions, Antioch finally earned the victory on penalty kicks.

Ironically, Miclea saw some time at goalie when it came down to the penalty kicks, where he made two diving saves. Mike Outinen finally buried one past the Jacobs keeper, sending Antioch home with the victory.

Michael Wheeler fed Steve Alberts for the game-tying score with around seven minutes remaining in the game.

Valiant effort falls short as Sequoit football ends season

The Antioch varsity football team's season came to a sudden halt last Saturday when it fell to Bloomington 41-24 in the first round of the Class 5A playoffs.

The Sequoits actually led 17-14 at halftime before the size of Bloomington eventually took over.

"Their (Bloomington) offensive and defensive lines ultimately just wore us out," said head coach Del Pechauer. "Their running backs were also strong and fast and they have a quarterback with good size who can really throw the ball. They looked like what a playoff team should look like."

But Pechauer and his troops have nothing to be ashamed of, especially considering how they got to the big dance-beating NSC champion Stevenson to clinch the playoff berth in the final week of the season.

"We played hard all game long," he said. "We never quit and refused to lose. These guys played with a lot of heart all season."

Antioch, which finished the year at 6-4 and was knocked out in the first round for the second consecutive year, jumped ahead in the first quarter when running back Mark Purnell raced in from three yards out. A 31-yard field goal by Nick Cullen and a 16-yard pass from star quarterback Don Lackey to Jim Richardson produced the 17-14 advantage.

But Bloomington (9-1) answered with a third-quarter touchdown, giving the hosts a 27-17 advantage.

Purnell then rumbled 91 yards for a touchdown on the ensuing kickoff early in the fourth quarter, putting the visitors ahead for good at 27-24.

Then it was all Bloomington. The hosts scored 21 unanswered points and the Antioch faithful's hopes of another comeback vanished.

Purnell finished the game with 132 yards on 29 carries and a touchdown while rifleman Lackey completed 19-of-42 passes for 246 yards and a score.

Richardson was the leading receiver with 84 yards on four catches and a touchdown. Richardson also did it on defense, picking off a pass.

Bloomington outgained Antioch 480-320 for the game. The Raiders Deon Brown rushed for 171 yards on 17 carries and two touchdowns.

Antioch capped off a 6-4 season that saw them win the Blue Jacket Classic to go along with a second-place finish in the North Suburban.

For some reason, that's probably not the last time you will hear accolades like that.

I'll show you!

Antioch Lightweights get another shot at Libertyville

The Antioch lightweight youth football team will have its shot at redemption against Libertyville this Sunday when the two face off in the Tri-County Conference title game at Carmel High School beginning at 3:30.

Antioch, which lost to Libertyville 30-14 during the regular season, earned a trip to the finals following its 28-7 victory over Grayslake last weekend.

The Vikings started fast when Jeff Kibonge raced 53 yards for a touchdown on the first offensive play of the game.

From there, Antioch was never threatened as it improved to 8-1 on the season.

Quarterback T.J. Weyenberg tossed an 18-yard touchdown pass to Brandon Yates and Taylor Hosick added the extra point late in the first half as Antioch led 14-0 at intermission.

Weyenberg then hooked up with Taylor Pechauer on a 34-yard pass in the third quarter. Weyenberg then raced in from 3 yards out in the fourth to conclude the Viking scoring.

Weyenberg finished the game completing 7-of-12 passes for 92 yards and two scores. Kibonge rushed for 61 yards on eight carries and the defense was anchored by Jeff Canella (interception), Reggie Johnson (2 interceptions), and defensive tackle Justin Carey (2 sacks, six solo tackles).

The Vikings are assured of a spot, along with Libertyville, in the Youth Football 'Super Bowl' in Buffalo Grove in two weeks. Berths are awarded to the top two teams from the regular season.

"We really came after them," said Antioch head coach Denny Porter, who incidentally founded the Super Bowl.

"We did a lot of blitzing and forced them out of their running game. Our game plan was to force them to pass and we did that."

The Lake Villa PeeWee's took home the championship last weekend. Dynamo U11s split games

Aaron Nichols scored a goal and dished out two assists as the Lindenhurst Dynamo U11 boys soccer team downed Schaumburg, 4-2.

Brett McKenzie added two goals and Marek Smith the other as the Dynamo team scored three times in the second half. Smith's goal was off of an assist by Matt McElhinney. Keepers Matt Reimer and Chris Meyer made several outstanding saves in preserving the victory.

On Oct. 24, the Dynamo squared off against the Arlington Aces. It was a physical game with Chris Meyer again in the net. Aaron Nichols scored the first goal for the Dynamo on a direct kick. Arlington came back with a goal to go into the half with a 1-1 tie.

In the second half, the Dynamo's defense was stellar in holding Arlington scoreless.

The Aces had a breakaway to score a go-ahead goal. Left-footed McKenzie was knocked down in the box to set up a penalty kick, but it was not to be and the game ended with the Dynamo losing by a score of 1-2.

Lake Villa Pee Wees claim league title

The Lake Villa Timberwolves Pee Wee team claimed the title of league champs as they shutout McHenry #2—25-0.

The Wolves offense looked sharp, scoring touchdowns on its first three possessions. First, Sean Hertz' 40 yard kick off return put the Wolves deep in McHenry territory. Matt Limbert's sweep around left end resulted in a 25 yard TD run.

On the Hornet's first possession, Nick Harrington's interception put the Wolves in position to put more points on the board. Hertz broke loose for 40 yards setting up first and goal from the 5-yard line. Billy Battistone finished the job by pushing his way into the end zone.

Limbert hit pay dirt again with a 20 yard TD run. His pass to Andy Lefler was also good for the extra point. Hertz finished the scoring with a 30 yard TD run.

Blocking was the name of the game as the Wolves had numerous long yardage runs. Nick Waldo, Joe Ramos, and Brian Schmidt turned in outstanding blocking performances.

Assistant Coach Dan Limbert's

defense once again rose to the occasion as they shut down McHenry holding them to negative yards. The Wolves defense was dominant all season holding their opponents to an average of 1 first down. The defense has given up only 2 touchdowns in 7 games.

Head Coach Gary Cukla singled out Jackson Davenport, Dominick Funari and Ted Bariamis for strong play on both defense and special teams.

The Pee Wees will be working hard this week as they prepare for their first playoff game on Sunday.

'Spotlight On Racing' offers motorsports insight

It is time for racing's biggest fall off-track event. The 3rd Annual Spotlight on Racing benefit is scheduled for this Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 6-7.

The event will be held at Field's Jeep Dealership, 670 Frontage Road, Northfield.

The weekend includes two major opportunities for motorsports enthusiasts to get an up-close look and a chance to visit with local and national racing stars.

Rodger Ward, two-time Indy 500 champion, will be the guest of honor for the evening.

Janet Guthrie, the first ever female to qualify and compete in the Indy 500, will also be on hand.

Duane Sweeney, retired official starter for the Indy 500, is another marquee name on the list.

The Spotlight includes appearances by various motorsports personalities, displays from national, regional and local racing organizations, and race tracks.

Among those scheduled to participate are The Milwaukee Mile (West Allis, Wis.), Road America (Elkhart Lake, Wis.), Wilmet Speedway (Wilmet, Wis.), Lake Geneva (Wis.) Raceway, Route 66 Raceway (Joliet), Raceway Associates Motorsports Park (Joliet) and Wisconsin Motorsports Park (Beaver Dam, Wis.).

LET'S GO RACING . . .

Race teams indicating intentions to participate include Payton/Coyne Racing, Nienhouse Motorsports, Tony Schumacher and others.

Local racers planning to attend include outlaw sprint car competitors Jay Sachs of Waukegan, Frank Moser of Antioch, Fred Michaels of Kenosha; mini-sprint Jay Potter from Twin Lakes; Midwest Enduro Series stock car of Bill Ring from Antioch; 1999 Midwest Enduro Stock Car Series Champion Tom Barnharst of Hales Corners; Bob Shineflug of Antioch and his SCCA Spec Racer Ford road race car; and Mike Dalton of Evanston with his Plymouth Neon Celebrity Challenge Series car.

Youth will also be well represented. The junior dragster of NHRA/IHRA National Champion 12-year-old St. Matthews 6th grader Brett Grantham of Wauconda will be on hand. High school champion Rick Stojak of Wauconda will also have his Chevy Camaro national title winning car on display.

The sister-brother team of Kimbra Starr and Joey Fuesting from Beach Park will have a "Night Stocker" Pro-Mod Altered and junior dragster, respectively.

Tim Cox of Park City plans to have his non-winged asphalt racing sprint car, which he in on the national USAC circuit and Todd Hepfner of Pewaukee intends to have a sprint car.

Many other antique and nostalgia race cars are expected to be on hand.

Most of the competitors will be available throughout the weekend for autograph and photo sessions and racing memorabilia will also be available.

Raffle tickets for a 1999 BMW Z3 Roadster from Fields Auto Dealership Group will be available but there are only 1,000 tickets valued at $100 each available.

A CART autographed helmet from the inaugural Chicago Motor Speedway event this past August with 30 signatures of such motorsports notables as Paul Newman, Mari and Michael Andretti, Chip Ganassi and Juan Montoya will have raffle tickets available.

Furthermore, a 1999 Indy 500 helmet with over 50 signatures, including AJ Foyt, Al Unser Sr., and Kenny Brack will have raffle tickets as well. Helmet raffle tickets are $5 each or three for $10.

The Saturday dinner will include presentation of the Rodger Ward Lifetime Achievement in Motorsports and Community Service award. Additional award presentations for outstanding support to motorsports are planned.

A silent and live auction are also planned. Various memorabilia will be displayed.

Yours truly will have the honor of emceeding the event.

A reception is planned from 5:30-7:30 p.m. with a sit-down dinner served at 7:30 and the program and awards to follow shortly after.

The Truth Warriors drama troupe based in Lake County will make a special presentation prior to dinner and the Traveling Hands Troupe from the International Center on Deafness and the Arts (ICODA) will be performing during the evening.

Tickets at $80 per person are available by contacting ICODA at 559-0110, ext. 271.

The Sunday Family Day will feature performances by The Traveling Hands and The Truth Warriors.

The race cars, present and past, along with racing personalities and other information on motorsports will be available to the public from 11 a.m.-4 p.m.

Family Day admission tickets are a $10 donation for adults while children are admitted for free.

ICODA works with education and assisting the deaf and hearing impaired. Emphasis is on sight/sound stage performances and artistic presentations.

Speaking of helping out, Darrell Dodd, owner of The Hot Rod Shop on Frontage Road just north of the Illinois/Wisconsin state line along I-94, is joining the growing list of sponsors for the ICODA event.

Dodd is hosting his 2nd Annual Motorsports Flea Market and Swap Meet 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 13 at his Frontage Road location.

The meet is expected to draw vendors with parts or complete cars including sprint cars, midjets, drag cars, classic cars, late models, stock cars, show cars and street rods.

Vendor space is available at $25 for a 10' x 20'.

Admission is $2 per person with children under 12 free. Refreshments will be available.

For more information contact Dodd at 262-857-2367.

The racing family was shocked twice within 48 hours.

Greg Moore, an up-and-coming star in the CART series, lost his life in a tragic fatal accident while competing in the early portions of the California 500 season ending finale on the afternoon of Oct. 31.

Less than 24 hours later, another member of the racing community although known more widely for his achievements on the football field, Walter Payton, lost a battle with a life threatening illness.

Both, in their own ways, brought a special unique addition to the motorsports world, especially to CART.

Thoughts and prayers go out to the families and friends of both gentlemen.

SPORTS DIGEST

It's twilight time at Thunderhawk. Sunset is a sure bet for visiting the Lake County Forest Preserves' new highly acclaimed Thunderhawk Golf Club, an 18-hole public championship course near Beach Park and Zion, designed by legendary golf course architect Robert Trent Jones Jr.

To celebrate a successful inaugural season and to introduce more area golfers to Thunderhawk, a sunset rate for public play after 5 p.m. is being offered on weekdays and weekends. The sunset rate is designed to encourage additional play after 5 p.m., a time when play is generally slower and daylight hours limit the ability to play a complete 18-hole round of golf.

On Mondays through Thursdays after 5 p.m. on weekends (Friday to Sunday) are $35 for Lake County residents and $55 for non-residents.

CARMEL HIGH SCHOOL

Science teacher calls for reform

Marianne Barker, a science teacher at Carmel High School has been published in the fall issue of SPECTRUM, the Journal for Illinois Science teachers.

Barker's article entitled "The Role of the K-12 classroom teacher in the Reform of the undergraduate College Science Curriculum for Pre-service teachers" points out that many education professors have not been in a high K-12 classroom for many years, nor have the college science professors. She calls for collaboration among award winning teachers and college level educators to devise new curricula.

According to Mrs. Barker, "If true reform is to occur in teacher preparation, we must include teachers into the work of teacher education as partners, not subordinates."

Student honored as Eagle Scout

Carmel High School junior Eric Para of Long Grove achieved "Eagle Scout," the highest rank awarded by the Boy Scouts. Only two percent of young men who join the Boy Scout's achieve this rank.

Eric's 10-month service project involved collecting school supplies from local churches, schools, and national manufacturers to be used by needy students at Our Lady of Tepeyac Schools in Chicago.

Poem shows true meaning of 'poppies'

By MICHAEL H. BABICZ
Community Editor

Poppies. Popple sales. Many people know what they look like.

Many know they are used to obtain funds for veterans.

Many know they are a part of Veteran's Day.

Few know the real story behind the poppies.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Veteran's of Foreign Wars (VFW) Post 4551 in Antioch set out this year to change that.

The ladies were busy much of this fall coordinating the combination of the "Buddy Poppies" with a poem entitled "In Flanders Field."

"As time has passed, many people do not understand why these poppies are so important," explained Dorothee Himber of the ladies auxiliary.

"The ladies are trying to explain to the children and their families the meaning of Buddie Poppies," Himber said.

Each child in 1st through 8th grades of the Antioch school district will receive a poem and Buddie Popple. There will be 3,335 children who live within the Antioch school district who will receive them.

"We are trying to educate our children on what VFW stands for," Himber said. "Our theme is 'We honor the dead by helping the living.'"

The ladies of the auxiliary spent

"Make A Difference Day" on Oct. 23 working on putting the poppies and poems together.

"These were made with love for our country, town and children," Himber concluded.

With Veteran's Day being a day of no school for most of the students, Himber and the ladies auxiliary encourage families to take a few moments to explain what the day is all about. Reading the poem may be a great opportunity to share in the education of young and old alike.

'We are trying to educate out children on what VFW stands for. Our theme is We honor the dead by helping the living'

Several Antioch children winners at annual anti-drug rally in Lake County

By JOE VAN ZANDT
CORRESPONDENT

Students from schools in western Lake County took half of the awards presented during the ninth annual Lake County Red Ribbon Rally.

The event, which took place Oct. 27 on an outdoor plaza of the Lake County Courthouse complex in downtown Waukegan, was attended by an estimated 500 students, as well as scores of parents and teachers and a dozen county officials. It featured music by the Waukegan High School Marching Band, skits by students from Wauconda Middle School, and award presentations to area schools and students in various contests aimed at delivering the Red Ribbon Week message: "Say no to drugs."

The most poignant warning concerning drug use was provided by Lake County Circuit Court Judge Barbara Gilleran-Johnson. Citing national statistics, she said more than half the students who experimented even once with marijuana become habitual users. The figures for harder drugs such as cocaine, heroin and LSD run as high as 90 percent.

What happens to individuals when they become addicted to such substances? Gilleran-Johnson said many become involved in criminal activities, often to pay for their habits, and wind up in front of a judge such as she.

And, warned Lake County State's Attorney Michael Waller, the policy of his office as well as the Lake County Sheriff's Department is to deal forcefully with such individuals. "We will do whatever it takes to help make our schools and our community drug free," he said.

During the awards segment of the program, Waller presented a check for $500 to representatives of the W.C. Petty School in Antioch in appreciation for the many activities it has sponsored to convince students to say no to drugs. The money, Waller said, was confiscated during raids on drug houses and arrests of drug dealers.

Winners of the 1999 Red Ribbon Week Poster Contest, for students in kindergarten through fifth grade, included the following youngsters from schools in western Lake County:

Kindergarten: First place - Jennifer Gontarek, St. Bede Catholic School, Fox Lake; second place - Megan Brown, St. Bede Catholic School.

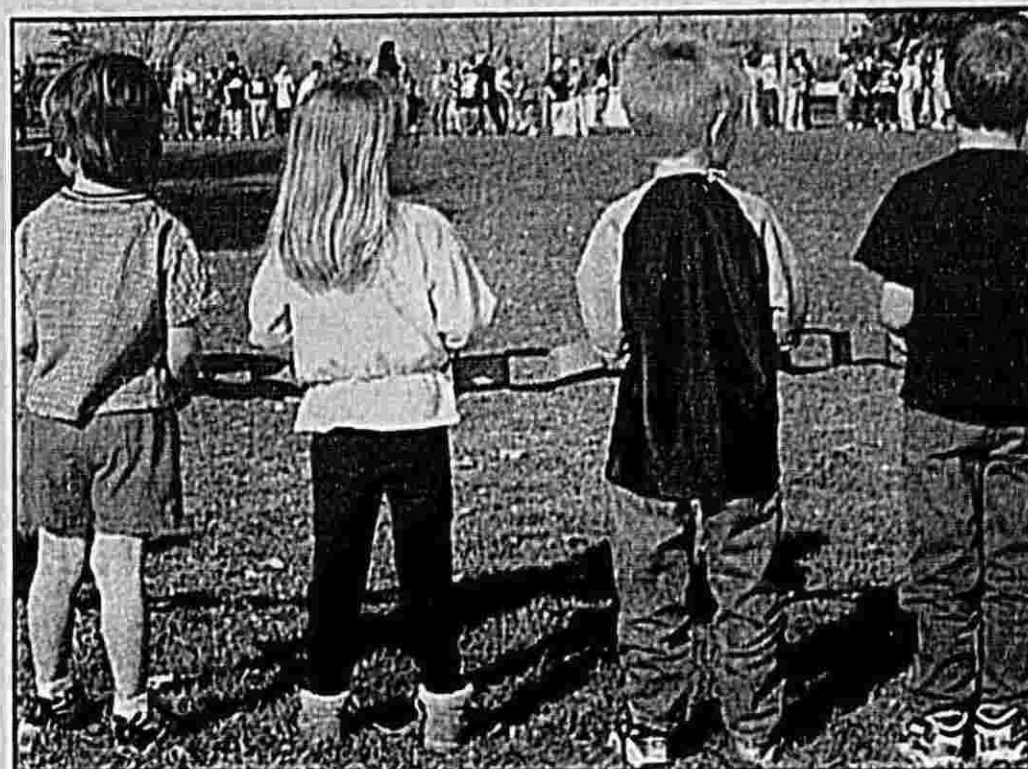

Second Grade: Second place, T.J. Barber, St. Bede Catholic School.

Winners of the 1999 Red Ribbon Week Class Collage Contest, open to classes from third through eighth grade, included:

Fourth grade - St. Bede Catholic School; fifth grade - W.C. Petty School, Antioch; sixth grade - Peter Palombi School, Lake Villa; seventh grade - Peter Palombi School, Lake Villa.

Winners of the 1999 Red Ribbon Week Essay Contest, for students in sixth through ninth grade, included the following students from schools in western Lake County:

Sixth grade - Second place, Peter Palombi School; seventh grade - second place, Harry Tyllia, Gavin South Middle School; ninth grade - first place, Damon Kelly, North Chicago High School; second place, David Bridges, North Chicago High School.

United against drugs

Sweet Adelines prepare for holiday singing season

The Chain O'Lakes Sweet Adeline Chorus welcomes all women who enjoy singing to attend rehearsals and perform with them as they entertain throughout the holiday season. Rehearsals will be held on Thursday evenings, from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. which began Oct. 28 and will conclude with a Christmas Concert to be held in December.

Anyone wishing to learn several Christmas Carols in four-part barbershop harmony and perform with the chorus, come to a rehearsal and learn more about this exciting form of entertainment. There is no obligation or cost to guest involved in this program.

Rehearsals are held at the Crystal Lake Salvation Army Citadel, 290 W. Crystal Lake Ave., Crystal Lake. For more information, contact the chorus by calling 622-5268.

Dept. of Transportation recruits employees on-line

Civil engineers, engineer technicians, and information technology employees can now use the World Wide Web to find employment opportunities within the Illinois Department of Transportation, according to Assistant Senate Majority Leader Adeline J. Geo-Karis (R-Zion).

"The Department of Transportation is casting a wide net in order to attract the best and the brightest to create and maintain our infrastructure," said Geo-Karis. "People can apply on-line. It will save them time and it is cost-savings for the Department, too."

To access the job opportunities with the Illinois Department of Transportation, log on to www.dot.state.il.us. At this site, there is a list of job descriptions, answers to frequently asked questions, and sample benefits for a first-year IDOT employee. The site is meant to expedite the application process as part of the Department's Building Illinois—Building Your Career recruitment program.

It's awesome!!
Richmond Grade School 7-year-old and 2nd grader Daniel McGraw of Spring Grove summed up being part of The Truth Warriors.

Begun as a singles group at Calvary Christian Center in Lake Villa about five years ago, the group of more than a dozen members ranging in age from 8 months to 50-something, has developed into a traveling drama team.

"We were doing it for Calvary Christian Center, but had a drive to bring our dramas and expand out more into the community," Scott McGraw, 30, of Spring Grove, one of the original members explained.

The main focus for the group is "to express our concern to try and encourage families to stay together and pull through hard times," McGraw said, adding, "God can help you."

The message of the Truth Warriors in their 15-song, three-set, performances is one more of spirituality and not of a given religious background.

The first public performance by The Truth Warriors came in October of 1997 at The MAZE hosted by Antioch Evangelical Free Church. The October appearance has become an annual stop for the Warriors.

"Kris (Innis) and I said the singles group enjoyed doing the human videos at the church, let's see what happens," Janice Poehler of Spring Grove, mother and grandmother of many of the groups members, explained the beginnings. "We met in October of '97 with six people at the first meeting."

"We thought we'd get some songs together, practice some routines and maybe be ready in January of '98," Poehler said with a smile. "In three weeks we were performing at The MAZE."

"It's been amazing since then," Poehler admits.

"We've been really fortunate with the doors which have opened up for us," Poehler said. "People don't realize when they come up to us and say how we really

MISSION STATEMENT

Truth Warriors are dedicated to serving the Lord in a drama ministry, with the talents and gifts He has given us; to share His Gospel with the Unbeliever, that they might be saved, and share His Word with the Believer, that they might be encouraged. We are an interdenominational ministry, that we might go where the Lord leads and come all glory for us to be used by Him.

AWESOME: Troupe has spiritual message have a message that is so encouraging to know the Lord is still using us. We really appreciate that."

None of the appearances over the past three years have been solicited by the group. "We've never had to make a phone call to appear somewhere," Poehler said, shaking her head in amazement. "It's always been through word of mouth or someone sees us perform and asks for us to come to another event."

The group charges nothing for its appearances. They do it because of their drive to help make the world a better place. The message presented in many of their skits is based on bible scripture. The performances have an effect on those who watch them, young or old, no matter what type of religious background one may have.

The next performance for the group will be Nov. 6-7 at The 3rd Annual Spotlight on Racing hosted by The International Center of Deafness and The Arts at the Fields Jeep Dealership in Northfield. The group is doing a special performance prior to dinner on Nov. 6 and will perform throughout The Family Day 11 a.m.-4 p.m. on Nov. 6. For information or tickets phone 559-0110, ext. 271.

Group members are from a wide variety of backgrounds. Carolyn Smith is a housewife, mother of four. Husband John Smith is a product specialist for Abbott Laboratories in North Chicago.

The Smith children, 4-year-old Alexis, twin 2-year-old boys Isaac and Benjamin, along with 8-month old Jonathan all play a part in The Truth Warriors—especially a moving piece entitled "One Nation" which includes all of the members. Cindy VanPatten of Antioch is a school bus driver. Husband Jeff VanPatten is a volunteer fireman and recycling company worker who handles videotaping of the performances. Two-year-old Samuel plays a part in "One Nation."

The Truth Warriors has brought two members together in matrimony. Tim and Jeni Ricer were married in October and have taken a leave from the performances for a while.

Jennifer McGraw of Spring Grove is a bank teller. Daniel, her 7-year-old son, has a major role in one of the skits which he has accepted well.

"We asked Daniel when he went up for his role if he was nervous and he said no," related his aunt, Carolyn Smith. "The kids have no fear. They've seen the performances since they were little."

"It kind of builds up their self-confidence and makes them proud of themselves," Smith said. "More so for Daniel because he's older. The boys love being in it."

"It gets them over the fear of being in front of people," Poehler added.

Twin sisters Kris and Karen Innis of Fox Lake are among the original cast. Both teach at Indian Hill School in Round Lake Beach, Karen 5th grade and Kris 1st grade.

"It has given me the opportunity to share the joy I've found in my life and what I believe in," Kris said.

"I like being able to share Jesus in a way that's fun and more comfortable for me," Karen admits. "I'm more shy if I have to speak on something, but I can speak through the songs and drama and get the same message across."

"I'm probably the newest member," admits John Smith, who has participated for four months. "I've been a member in a supportive way, watching and helping with the kids during practices and performances."

"I watched them do the dramas and they always touched me, convicting me to grow in my faith and join the group myself," John added.

Practices are held weekly on Fridays at the Smith house, partly because they have the most children and it makes it easier for child care.

Group members view the ability to include the entire family as a plus. The only drawback is sometimes the practices or performances will go late into the evening, past the little ones' bed times.

"It looked like fun," said Daniel of why he wanted to be a part of the performances. Daniel says he enjoys science in school with music being a close second.

Ironically, group members do not have much of a background in drama or music.

"I was in charge of lights when I was in second grade for The Nutcracker," admits Scott. "When we went on, I turned the light switch on. When we were done, I turned it off. That was the extent of my involvement until The Truth Warriors."

Alexis, the only little girl in the group, says she likes to dance. "Satan Bites The Dust" is her favorite skit. Daniel likes "Jesus" in which he has a part.

Music and skits come together through the group's brainstorming. The group sees itself as "instruments of God," with Poehler serving as "God's secretary" to keep things in order.

"We all give input for the choreography," explains Scott. "Somebody comes up with a rough draft with the final touches coming through brainstorming.

"If there's a special topic a speaker's going to be addressing, we'll put something together for that," explains Kris. "Otherwise, we'll come together with a general idea, then as we practice it, we'll fill in the details until everyone's comfortable."

The group is always looking for new members. Persons interested, no matter the age, can contact Janice Poehler at 815-675-9100.

'Sinatra' leading 'Footlights' shows

By MICHAEL H. BABICZ
Community Editor

"Sinatra," "3 Brothers," "Grease Band," "3rd Degree" and "Stars of Lip Sync" are all coming.

They will part of the 18th Annual Footlights at St. Peter Parish in Antioch.

The shows run Nov. 5-6 and 12-13.

The community entertainment extravaganza will feature the return of "3 Brothers," a comedy improv troupe out of Chicago.

Ed Franks "Sinatra," a well known impersonator, is coming back by popular demand. The Milwaukee based impersonator is expected to give his best renditions of many of "old blue eyes" more than 100 songs which Franks knows.

St. Peter's very own "Grease Band" will provide sounds to prepare for the celebration of the millennium.

A live band "3rd Degree" is a new addition this year providing rhythm and blues sounds.

The always popular and unpredictable "Stars of Lip Sync" is expected to be a "must see" act again this year with local talent striving to be discovered.

Antioch's own PM&L Players will provide some comedy karaoke.

A full casino including blackjack, craps and poker will be a popular stopping spot.

Food from light snacks to a full dinner will be available at Southern Charms. Full meals will be available for $7.

Major art donation from artist at Jack Benny Center

The Waukegan Park District announced that world renowned artist Jim Harrington delivered his painting entitled The Waukegan Symphony and Concert Chorus to the Jack Benny Center for the Arts where it will be permanently displayed. The painting is the artist's rendition of the magic and beauty of music in the air and is magnificently depicted through the use of brilliant and vibrant colors. Painted in 1995 by Harrington in honor of the Waukegan Symphony and Concert Chorus (WSOCC), he also produced 500 prints as a fundraiser for the WSOCC at that time. Some of the prints are still available for purchase at the Jack Benny Center for the Arts, for price information please call 360-4740.

"We are thrilled to finally give this magnificent painting a home at the Jack Benny Center for the Arts," said Dr. Lynn Schomick, Superintendent of Cultural Arts at the Waukegan Park District. "Mr. Harrington's generosity to the Waukegan Park District and other entities in this community is well known and appreciated and it is very fitting that this painting be placed here."

The 6'x9' painting will be hung in the stairwell that leads to the dance studios on the wall that faces the front of the building where it will be visible to all who approach the building by foot or vehicle. Visible through the windows on the west side of the Jack Benny Center for the Arts, this beautiful masterpiece will add life and vitality to a wall that has remained blank since the Center was opened in 1987.

"It is always a pleasure for me to work closely with the Waukegan Park District," said Harrington. "Their commitment to the arts and our community has always been very strong."

Guild of Natural Science Illustrators to hold exhibit at Concordia University

The Guild of Natural Science Illustrators will exhibit its members' works in the Ferguson Gallery at Concordia University from Nov. 8 - Dec. 17. The exhibit will open with a reception from 1-5 p.m. Nov. 7 in the gallery, in Kretzmann Hall on Concordia's campus, 7400 Augusta, River Forest.

The show will feature works depicting scientific and wildlife subjects in various media to help educate about this diverse and learned occupation. During the reception, the artists will demonstrate illustration techniques.

The artists are Rocio Jarmillo, of Oak Park; Chris Porter, of Des Plaines; Nancy Halliday and Jennifer Logothetti, both of Glenview; Barbara Papamarcos, of Barrington; Jack Scott, of Chicago; Suzanne Wegener, of Lisle; June Pedigo, of Highland Park; Carolyn Kenney, of Wauwatosa, WI; and Erik Wild of Steven's Point, WI.

The Guild of Natural Science Illustrators is a not-for-profit organization, whose members specialize in many areas of professional science illustration, such as microbiology, anthropology and astrophysics. Their artwork may be found in textbooks, multi-media, and exhibits.

Ferguson Gallery is open to the public from 9 a.m.-7 p.m. weekdays, 10 a.m.-6 p.m. weekends.

Ringling Bros. elephants perform a long mount.

Circus illuminates the imagination

In a masterful display of human and animal collaboration, The 129th Edition of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey presents 'The World's Only Living Carousel,' a shimmering spectacular of awe-inspiring proportions, coming to Rosemont's Allstate Arena (formerly Rosemont Horizon), now through Nov. 14, then moving to Chicago's United Center, Nov. 16-28. Athletes, acrobats, elephants, ostriches, alpacas, yaks and more-breathtakingly adorned in a montage of dazzling bejeweled costumes-perform together to create the most elaborate illuminated circus spectacular ever seen within the three rings of The Greatest Show On Earth.

This year's spectacular showcases circus families presenting acts that have spanned the generations. Featuring everything from horses to housecats, this is 'The World's Largest Traveling Menagerie,' a global galaxy of the world's most glorious gifts and an amazing array of the adorable and astounding, beloved and beautiful. Skills passed from father to son take on a whole new tantalizing twist when the masters of the highwire, the trapeze, The Globe of Death and The Wheel of Wonder wow audiences with their flights of fearlessness, executing unimagined aerial acts of death-defying skill and strength. This spectacular, inspired by the visionary direction of Phil McKinley, also celebrates the fabulous funsters who deliver an all-new line up of comedic capers.

Tickets for The Greatest Show On Earth go on sale Monday, Oct. 4 at the Allstate Arena Box Office, 6920 N. Mannheim Rd., the United Center Box Office, 1901 W. Madison St., Chicago. For general show information, call the Allstate Arena at 635-6601 or the United Center at (312)455-4500.

For additional information regarding The Greatest Show On Earth, visit the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey web site at www.Ringling.com.

Reserve an angel for 'Festival of Trees'

All of us have angels in our lives. Those people who we recall in fondness—sometimes for the encouragement they give us, sometimes for the support, sometimes for the love. The holiday season is the perfect time to honor these angels, either in life or in memory.

The special 'angel Tree' at 1999 Festival of Trees presents an opportunity to recognize the people who have affected your life. Lovingly designed to highlight dozens of special angel ornaments, the tree will be a focal point of this year's festival. Hung on the tree will be delicate 7-inch ivory, gold and bronze ornaments, each bearing the name of a person being honored or remembered.

At the close of the festival, ornaments will be available for pick up or arrangements can be made to have them shipped to yourself or as a gift to someone else. The cost of each angel ornament is $25 (a $3 handling fee is added for those being shipped). To honor the angels in your life, call Victory's Development Department at 360-4248, Monday through Friday, between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

The Festival of Trees is sponsored by The Victory Hospital foundation. Now in its eighth year, the festival is scheduled from November 17-21 at Midlane Country Club, 4555 Yorkhouse Road, Wadsworth.

Proceeds from this year's festival, as well as the Angel Tree ornaments, will benefit Victory Community ElderCARE is committed to caring for the frail and elderly residents throughout Lake County who have limited financial resources. It provides a variety of community-based programs and services to improve quality of life; promote physical emotional and spiritual well being; reduce isolation and encourage independence.

The teacher who patiently taught us algebra, the parent who lovingly held our hands as we crossed the street, the friend who introduced us to our husbands and wives. These are the angels in our lives. The people being recognized with special angel ornaments at the 8th Annual Festival of Trees, Nov. 17-21, at Midlane Country Club, Wadsworth. Call 360-4248 for information on honoring or remembering the angels in your life.

Parkside 'Arts: Alive!' debuts with Buddy Holly Nov. 5

The UW-Parkside "Arts: ALIVE!" series brings to campus seven performances worth leaving home for. The program starts in November with a rock and roll legend and ends in March with a Broadway hit musical. In between, enough music, singing, dancing, and entertaining are planned to warm even a midwestern winter.

Arts: ALIVE! brings "Buddy Holly & the Crickets" to the Communication Arts Theater Nov. 5 starting at 7:30 p.m. Forty years after the "Day the Music Died," the songs and character of Buddy Holly are brought to life in this bring-a-smile-to-your-face rock 'n' roll show.

Two holiday traditions are included in Arts: ALIVE! with a performance of Handel's "Messiah" Dec. 5 and "Let Us Light Candles" Dec. 12. For season ticket holders, passes to "Let Us Light Candles" are included at no extra charge.

On Jan. 25 the music of Gaelic Storm—the Irish dance band from the block-buster film "Titanic"—roars onto campus. Arts: ALIVE! follows that performance with the passion and fire of the Jose Greco Flamenco Dance Company Feb. 3.

The final two programs of the arts: ALIVE! series bring to UW-Parkside the gravity-defying stunts of Peking Acrobats on March 7, and the rousing song and dance of the hit Broadway musical "Pump Boys and Dinettes" March 23.

Money saving season tickets as well as tickets for individual programs are not available. For more information, call (262) 595-2345.

HOROSCOPE

Aries - March 21/April 20

Don't be too outgoing when meeting a new business associate this week. He or she is shy and might be overwhelmed by your aggressive nature. Try to take it easy on him or her for a while. A loved one offers you some romantic advice. Take it, because it's sure to help your love life.

Taurus - April 21/May 21

Work diligently to get what you want this week, Taurus. It's the only way to make any progress. However, don't tell those around you what your objective is, or they will try to put up roadblocks. Just keep quiet, and work hard. That's how you'll achieve your goal. Cancer plays an important role on Wednesday.

Gemini - May 22/June 21

Don't pressure a loved one to make a decision early in the week, Gemini. You've asked a favor of this person; now, you have to let him or her decide what to do. Trying to force an answer only will hurt you in the long run. You just have to be patient. That special someone asks you an important question. Be honest with him or her.

Cancer - June 22/July 22

A loved one tells you something important, Cancer. However, he or she tells you in confidence. So, don't spread this information around. Keep it to yourself. You'll damage your close relationship with this person if you tell others. Virgo plays an important role late in the week.

Leo - July 23/August 23

Don't let your pride get in the way of asking for help this week, Leo. You are in a difficult situation and can't get out of it on your own. Asking loved ones to help you out won't mean that you're weak. Everyone needs some assistance now and then. Besides, these people are always there for you.

Virgo - Aug 24/Sept 22

Try not to be too critical of yourself when you make an honest mistake this week, Virgo. It doesn't cause any serious problems, and no one criticizes you for it. So, don't beat yourself up about it. Just work to rectify the situation, and move on. A loved one asks a favor of

you. Do what you can for him or her.

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

Don't be taken in by an acquaintance. He or she is trying to make some money off of you; don't let that happen. If you listen to what this person is saying, you'll realize that it's all fast talk. Tell him or her to buzz off.

Scorpio - Oct 24/Nov 22

Don't let your ego show through in a business meeting on Thursday, Scorpio. You need to impress some very important people. Let them see your intelligence, not your vanity. That's your ticket to success. A close friend needs your help with a personal problem. Be there for him or her.

Sagittarius - Nov 23/Dec 21

A former friend offers you an interesting proposition. While you're intrigued, don't get involved with this person. He or she isn't telling you everything there is to know. Besides, there's a reason why you're no longer close with this person. Don't forget about that.

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20

Don't get upset with a loved one who offers you some constructive criticism. He or she only is trying to help you. Instead of getting angry, listen to what this person has to say. It will be worth your effort. The person whom you've been seeing wants to intensify your relationship. Say yes, because this is what you want, too.

Aquarius - Jan 21/Feb 18

Be realistic when it comes to your professional life, Aquarius. Don't bite off more than you can chew, because a lot of people are depending on you. Letting them down will hurt your chances of advancing your career. An acquaintance asks you out. Say yes, because it's sure to be a good time.

Pisces - Feb 19/March 20

A family friend needs your help with a personal problem. Try to comfort him or her, and be supportive. However, don't get too involved. It only will cause a lot of problems for you. Sagittarius plays an important role late in the week.

There's something rotten in 'The House on Haunted Hill'

The scariest part of the horror movie revival is that people keep coming back for more, especially at Halloween.

But, the lure of the holiday is over and The House on Haunted Hill proves nothing was learned from that earlier fiasco The Haunting. Those trailers are deceiving aren't they?

In The House on Haunted Hill, five unsuspecting people are invited to a bizarre birthday party at the old Vannacutt Psychiatric Institute for the Criminally Insane.

The party is thrown by Steven Price (Geoffrey Rush), amusement park mogul, to appease his stone-cold wife Evelyn (Famke Janssen).

If the guests make it through the entire night in this house of horrors, they'll be rewarded with $1 million each.

Oh, what the rich won't do to get their kicks.

Long ago, the evil Dr. Vannacutt tortured and performed hideous experiments on the institute's patients.

When the patients revolted and massacred the doctors, only five of Dr. Vannacutt's staff survived. Supposedly, the patients' tortured spirits remained trapped within the walls.

Price, a master of chills and thrills, has rigged the old house with special effects to freak out the suspicious five, who aren't sure why they're on the guest list to begin with.

They don't know the birthday girl, or each other, and the increasingly frightening phenomena is a bit too sophisticated to be just smoke and mirrors or parlor tricks.

By the time the group realizes it is not Price, but the house that is having its way with them, the money is irrelevant. Getting out alive is the real prize.

The House on Haunted Hill has its moments with semi-amusing special effects, but the plot is weak, barely exploring the history of the doomed house.

In one of the few scenes that addresses the mental institution aspect of the house, we see Dr. Vannacutt and his staff in mid-surgery through the camcorder of one of the guests as a haunting reminder of past evils, but its significance is overshadowed as more attention is paid to the characters' lack of substance.

'The House on Haunted Hill' begins with a great premise, but leaves the audience wanting more.

None of the characters stood out in this movie. You rooted for no one to make it out alive, and those who bit it, didn't die quite horribly enough.

A few screams here, a smear of blood there, but nothing worthy of making your eyes close and peak open again.

The cast includes Chris Kattan as the home's "I'm going to drink and be sarcastic to deal with it all" owner; Peter Gallagher as the "I know something you don't know" doctor; and Taye Diggs as the "I'm an oaf who still has time to check out the girls' bodies while running for my life" guest.

You have to wonder why Geoffrey Rush (Shine) would even consider being in such a go-nowhere project.

But, like the premise of the movie, it's all about the Benjamins, and they got mine. Don't let them get yours too.

I give The House on Haunted Hill one popcorn box out of five for not playing up the house's evil history, and centering the majority of the film around vapid characters that you can't bring yourself to care about.

Folk singer, jazz violinist team up

Popular folk singer Jim Post and premier jazz violinist Randy Sabien team up for a high voltage concert at 8 p.m. Nov. 5, in Stage 1 of the Visual and Performing Arts Center at Elgin Community College, 1700 Spartan Drive, Elgin. This is the second event in ECC's CenterStage Series, which is sponsored by the Daily Herald. Post and Sabien describe themselves as "Two Lightning Strikes in the Same Bottle," two "forces of nature in a high-octane, free-flowing concert" blending folk, jazz, blues and rock.

Tickets to the Jim Post and Randy Sabien concert are $25 for adults, $24 for students/seniors, and are available at the ECC Ticket Office located in the Visual and Performing Arts Center, 1700 Spartan Drive, Elgin. Ticket Office hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and noon to 4 p.m. Saturday. To purchase tickets by phone, call 622-0300.

Complete information on the ECC arts and entertainment 1999-2000 season is posted on the VPA website at www.elgin.cc.il.us/news/vpac.

Grand Palace offers 'A Wedding to Remember'

You've found that special someone and now it's time to start planning a wedding you'll remember for the rest of your lives. The Grand Palace Banquet Center, located in the heart of Lake County's commercial and entertainment Mecca, adjacent to Mings of China, at 5572 Grand Ave., in Gurnee, takes great pride in creating "A Wedding to Remember."

The Grand Palace offers elegant banquet facilities enhanced by crystal chandeliers and soft tapestried walls, perfect for the intimate party of 50, or a grand celebration for 250.

To capture that wedding dream and make it come true, the Grand Palace's professional and experienced banquet coordinator will work with the bride and groom every step of the way, establishing a relationship that will help you realize the perfect wedding fantasy.

Among the many package choices are an American cuisine dinner served family style with main entrees, of roast chicken, sirloin of beef and mostaccioli, and refills upon request. Many other items are available ranging from honey mustard chicken to steak and lobster, or a grand buffet.

Their wedding packages include four hours of bar, hors d'oeuvres, a champagne fountain upon arrival, a full seven-course dinner with your choice of a lovely tiered wedding cake, plus a private bridal room.

For reservations and more information, call Toni at (847) 662-2929 as soon as possible. There are still openings for receptions and holiday parties. The Grand Palace will hold the "Party of the Century" on New Year's Eve to welcome in the new millennium in style. Call early for reservations.

The Grand Palace is also the perfect place to celebrate birthdays, graduations, anniversaries, hold business dinners, and for parties to celebrate every important occasion. There is special pricing for parties held on weekdays, Friday or Sunday.

For out-of-town guests, the Grand Palace is located near I-94, close to Great America and Gurnee Mills, with the convenience of hotels and motels nearby.

Just off of the I-94, at 5572 Grand Ave. in Gurnee.

Eating breakfast leads to good school performance

Just a few minutes at the breakfast table can fuel a child with the energy and nutrients he or she needs to perform well in school.

It may be surprising to learn that many children do not eat breakfast. According to the American Dietetic Association (ADA), as many as one out of six fifth-graders skip breakfast and older children are more likely to skip breakfast than younger children. What many parents do not know, is that skipping breakfast can have a direct effect on their child's school performance.

"A well-nourished child comes to school ready to learn," says Deborah Rees, R.D., supervisor for a USDA Team Nutrition grant awarded to the Illinois State Board of Education. "Studies have shown that children who eat breakfast score higher on tests and have better concentration. They learn better, are more alert and attentive, and are more likely to participate in activities." Rees helped create a nutrition education web site as a resource for students, parents and teachers. It can be found at www.kidseatwell.org.

ADA says children who eat breakfast are less likely to miss class or be tardy than those children who do not. A child who has the energy and nutrients that come from breakfast will go to school ready to learn. Those children who skip their morning meal will be hungry, lack energy and are not likely to reach their full learning potential.

A good, balanced breakfast provides children foods that give them energy, protein and good sources of zinc, iron and calcium. Rees says a balanced breakfast should include two servings from the bread and cereal group, a serving from the fruit group and a serving from the dairy group. Parents should use the USDA's Food Guide Pyramid as a guideline to make sure children are receiving the right amount of energy, protein and nutrients to perform well in school.

"Feeding the children is not enough. Parents should eat breakfast too," says Rees. "Children look to their parents as role-models and when they see parents eat breakfast they are more likely to eat breakfast too."

Rees says parents should make breakfast "family time." Eating breakfast together allows parents and children to have the quality time that is often forgotten in today's fast-paced society. Just a few minutes together each morning can provide important time for family members to discuss what is happening in their lives.

On mornings when it is impossible for families to eat breakfast together, parents should encourage their children to eat breakfast at school. Eating breakfast at school can provide a child with an important opportunity for social interaction. Many children have breakfast programs. Parents can call the local school to see if they offer a breakfast program.

Breakfast has long been one of the most important meals of the day. Now, studies have shown that children who eat breakfast are less likely to be tardy or absent.

Parents can find helpful nutrition information at the www.kidseatwell.org web site. This web site is full of important information related to their child's diet and nutrition needs. Parents can find tips on how to feed a picky eater, learn to make wise fast food choices and plan nutritious snacks for school events. It also has other links to sites that have accurate, solid nutrition information. Some web sites on the Internet offer inaccurate information, or present a biased point of view, but Rees is committed to maintaining a web site and recommending links only with sites featuring accurate information from experts with the public's best interest at heart.

For more information on www.kidseatwell.org or good breakfast nutrition please call Deborah Rees at 1-800-466-7998 or e-mail her at drees@mail.isbe.accessus.net.

Proper treatment of Atopic Dermatitis may bring relief for children and parents/caregivers

Atopic dermatitis, one of the most common skin disorders of children, is uncomfortable for those who suffer from the disease, and can be stressful for their parents/caregivers. But, say dermatologists, with proper treatment and precautions, this form of eczema can be controlled.

The disease, for which there is no known cure, can occur at any age but is most common in infants to young adults. Approximately 10 percent of infants and 3 percent of the U.S. population overall suffer from atopic dermatitis.

"The exact cause of atopic dermatitis is unknown and identifying the factors that cause and exacerbate the disease are different for each person," says Teri Kahn, M.D., Director, Pediatric Dermatology, Departments of Dermatology and Pediatric & Adolescent Medicine, The Cleveland Clinic Foundation. "It can be hereditary or simply caused by a variety of every-day conditions." Irritating factors in soaps, detergents, fabric softeners, certain types of clothing, and dyes or perfumes can aggravate the disease. Stress, dry skin, heat and sweating, low humidity, or allergies can also be irritants. Food allergy is proven as a cause in fewer than 10 percent of children.

Atopic dermatitis is characterized by a very itchy, burning rash. In infants, spots tend to appear mainly on the face and scalp. In teens and young adults, the rashes typically occur on the elbow bends and backs of the knees, ankles and wrists and on the face, neck and upper chest. Although these are the most common sites, any body area may be affected. Atopic dermatitis is not contagious.

In attempts to relieve the itchy feeling caused by the rash, individuals with the disease often seek relief by rubbing or scratching the itch. This can exacerbate the condition. "Scratching damages the skin, worsens inflammation, irritates surface nerves, and leads to more intense itching which, in turn, may lead to infection," explains Dr. Kahn.

Most cases of atopic dermatitis are too severe for self-care by parents/caregivers. "Proper, early and regular treatment by a dermatologist can bring relief and may reduce the severity and duration of the disease," says Dr. Kahn. In treating pediatric atopic dermatitis patients, Dr. Kahn works with parents/caregivers to identify and remove from the child's environment those irritants that aggravate the rash, and also offers advice on how to manage the disease. To help control the itching and inflammation associated with this condition, she often prescribes a topical steroid such as DERMATOP Emollient Cream (prednicarbate emollient cream) 0.1%. DERMATOP is the only mid-potency topical steroid approved for use in pediatric patients one (1) year of age and older.

To help alleviate your child's discomfort, Dr. Kahn offers the following suggestions to parents/caregivers:

- Reduce contact with irritants. Common culprits include nickel/chrome plated jewelry, snaps and buttons, laundry detergents, certain fragrances, and direct

When is it best to start changing behavior?

Hi Dr. Singer,

I have been reading your column probably since you started writing it, maybe three years ago. I am the mother of twin 5-year-old daughters and have always loved and agreed with your ideas. The one thing I have never really seen you write about is yourself and what your practice is actually like. The reason I ask now is because we have seen some little problems in our girl's behavior and we wondered when the right time is to look for help like yours. Thank you for any information! B.H.

Hi B.H.,

Glad to give you some info in the column. In my practice people get immediate solutions to behavioral problems and finish fairly quickly. Most of what I do is based on short-term education and not on pathology or mental disease. Most of the people I see are not having horrible emotional problems in their family, but rather just normal life problems that do not require huge amounts of time.

I work mostly with parents and not kids. Some people find that to be shocking when they come in, because they have been trained to believe that any good therapy work for a child should include the child. I disagree for several reasons and will tell you why. I like to be the short-term "silent partner" of sorts. What I mean by this is that I want your child to feel and think that any changes that happen in your family are your idea and your power. I used to see kids with parents, but an incident happened in my office that I'd like to tell you about that will illustrate why I changed this fast!

PARENT'S PLACE

This story is about a family with two boys aged 7 and 9. They were coming to me for a short time when, during one session, the 9-year-old was upset about a punishment he had incurred. The 7-year-old said, out loud, to the 9-year-old in front of all of us, "Don't worry, when Dr. Singer isn't seeing us anymore, Mom and Dad will stop doing this and go back to normal." Both parents and I looked at each other in amazement. It was from that moment forward that I decided that if I was going to have any effect on changing kid's behavior, I had to do the magic with parents alone. It has worked very effectively and I have seen behavior change that is miraculous! The miracle comes in changing the way parents see their child and think about their child.

Let me give you some guidelines that I believe make a lot of sense in helping you decide when it's time to come in and see me:

Don't ever feel bad about looking for a neutral person like me to help you change your child's behavior. Understand that therapy with a counselor is not admitting weakness.

Most people I have seen are not coming in with severe emotional crisis. Therefore, our work together is very short-term and changes happen almost immediately when you implement my strategies. Of course, if someone is in severe emotional crisis, therapy will be a bit longer, but I have never had a person be in long-term therapy in my office, who did not want to be coming. The average length of stay in my office for behavior change counseling is approximately 3-4 sessions. People usually come for the core class and then as time goes on they may come back every so often for a "booster" session. The average length of stay in my office for my mental skills improvement program is a little longer, but you are actually building a child's mental skills through this program and that means changing habits.

I believe that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." We've all heard this one before and I think it's very important when talking about getting behavioral help for your child. If you catch it when the child is very young, and make sure that you are doing the right thing from the beginning, your child has a better chance of behaving correctly from the beginning and you have a better chance of a great relationship with your child! The older a child is, the harder it is to change behavior. My favorite client to work with is the parents of a child aged 3-7. They are so manageable at that time that your work becomes fairly effortless. Also, if you think about changing a 7 year olds behavior vs. a 16 years olds behavior, you begin to see what I mean. I advise all people that the first sign of defiance or disrespect is a good time to call me and come in. If you are yelling all the time, it's another good sign to call me.

Regarding cost, every office will be a bit different on this. Private therapy will cost more than doing this through insurance or school, but there are also advantages to doing this privately. First, I am a huge believer in privacy, especially when it comes to kids! I believe that parents, not schools or insurance companies, should be completely involved and in control of their child's treatment at all levels. I believe that whenever you can, do any kind of testing or treatment privately. I believe this for several reasons. First, any time you go private, you are the boss. Also, when you do things privately, you are in complete control of your child's file. No one else can get their hands on that file without your permission. It does not sit in a file folder for anyone to just look at. I have a real problem with that. This is not because people in the school are not careful.

Of course, money is important, so it feels good to get something for free or for very low cost, but I usually look more at the "price" paid for that free or low cost service, whether it be lack of privacy or lack of control of treatment. Either way when you are talking about a child and a child's future.

I have made sure that my programs are such that they are short-term, produce very effective results in a short time and are a one-time fee as opposed to spending over and over again over time.

Regarding who would be appropriate to learn about changing kids behavior... really, anyone who has small kids would benefit from learning how to prevent bad behavior before it starts. Waiting for things to become a problem is really a very inefficient and more expensive way to do things. It is always good to educate yourself about your kids. Thanks for your interest and take care in the meantime.

Good Shepherd Hospital golf outing raises $90,000

Good Shepherd Hospital's 19th Annual Invitational Golf Outing, held this past summer, attracted 144 area business and civic leaders. The sold-out event raised $90,000 in net proceeds to benefit the hospital's Cancer Care Program.

Co-Chairs Herbert L. Johnson and William C. Graft were instrumental in attracting an additional $20,000 in community support this year. "The success of this event demonstrates very strong community support of Good Shepherd and its outstanding Cancer Care Program," said Graft. "The Barrington community is fortunate to have Good Shepherd Hospital and its quality health care in our community."

The success of the outing was due in large part to the efforts of the 1999 Good Shepherd Golf Benefit Committee members as well as the following Masters Level Sponsors: American National Bank & Trust Company of Chicago; C.M. Products, subsidiary of Chicago Metallic Products; The Chicago Trust Company; Citadel Group Ltd.; continental Electrical Construction company; HDR Architecture; Phillips Swager Associates; Sage Products, Inc.; Ham & Bettye Traylor; United Airlines; and The Medical Staff of Good Shepherd Hospital.

The hospital Cancer Care Program currently provides a wide range of inpatient and outpatient services to patients, including a full complement of medical, surgical and radiation oncology services. During the coming year, Good Shepherd plans to make significant enhancements in its Cancer Care Program to meet the growing community need for cancer care.

Robert Flanagan, M.D., Chair of Good Shepherd's Cancer Care Committee; Russell E. Feurer, Chief Executive of Good Shepherd Hospital; and Golf Benefit Committee Co-Chairs Herbert L. Johnson and William C. Graft of Barrington, present a check for $90,000 for the hospital's Cancer Care Program.

November is National Hospice Month

Death is a normal part of life, and for 15 years, Hospice of Northeastern Illinois (HNI) has cared for people with life limiting illnesses and their families in the western suburbs and counties of the Chicago area. HNI has provided medical care, day-to-day help and emotional support for thousands of families.

November 1 marked the beginning of National Hospice Month. The month is designated to honor the patients, families, professionals and volunteers that provide the physical, spiritual and emotional support for those facing end-of-life care in the community.

"All too often people facing life limiting illnesses don't know where to turn for comfort and support," said Carol Peltier, President/CEO of Hospice of Northeastern Illinois. "Through this celebration, our goal is to diminish the fears that make people reluctant to talk about death and to let them know about the supportive, compassionate and symptom relieving services that hospice provides."

Many Americans are under the misconception that hospice is "a place to die," so they don't take advantage of this very special type of care. Hospice care is a concept of care that treats the person, not the disease and emphasizes the quality of life, not the duration. The hospice team of caregivers works with patients and families to develop individualized plans of care that are designed to ease the patient's physical and emotional pain. Hospice caregivers provide emotional support to the patient and their family during the most difficult time of their lives.

Peltier emphasizes that hospice is not about dying, but about living the very best way you can live until the last moment of life. "Many families that use hospice say that they don't know how they would have managed without hospice and wished they had called for us sooner," said Peltier.

"Most patients are afraid of pain and dying alone, but hospice care can alleviate pain and make sure that the patient's wishes are met for their care both physically and spiritually. Sometimes, a patient's illness is stabilized, and they may be discharged from hospice care," stated Peltier.

The cost question is another challenge of patients and families. Hospice services are paid through Medicare and Medicaid benefits, most major insurance policies, and in the event of an inability to pay, hospice care is provided free, thanks to the many individuals, organizations and companies that donate to the Hospice Foundation.

Started in 1984, Hospice of Northeastern Illinois is a not-for-profit community-based organization serving over 137 communities and six counties in the Chicagoland area. HNI specializes in meeting the needs of patients with life-limiting illnesses and their families by providing primary caregiver services including physical, emotional, spiritual and practical needs for patients in a home, nursing home or hospital setting.

skin contact with rough fibers, particularly wool. Food allergy is proven as a cause in fewer than 10 percent of children. Common allergy-causing foods are eggs, milk, seafood, nuts, wheat and soy.

- Wash new clothes before your child wears them.

Use mild laundry detergents and avoid bleach, fabric softeners and perfumed laundry products. Because synthetic and wool tend to aggravate the condition, 100 percent cotton garments are advisable.

- Clip fingernails short.

At naptime and bedtime, put light cotton gloves on your child's hands to avoid "sleep scratching."

- Use a humidifier, especially in your child's bedroom.

This will help increase moisture content.

- Talk to your dermatologist about proper bathing and moisturizing techniques.

Use soapless cleansers or non-alkaline (neutral) soaps. AVEENO Bath Treatments, Lotions, Creams and Cleansers contain Colloidal Oatmeal, an ingredient clinically proven and recommended by dermatologists to relieve dry, itchy skin naturally. Don't rub with a washcloth as this may irritate the skin.

- Be aware of how climate affects your child.

Many patients may improve with sunlight, but heat may aggravate itching. Air conditioning may provide added benefit in hot climates.

With time, atopic dermatitis usually improves. For most children, the condition tends to go away by the teenage years, but the dry skin associated with the disease may remain. Occasionally, eczema may flare up in later years during times of stress or exposure to irritants.

"Work with your dermatologist to learn about the disease and how it is treated. Be reassured that it can be controlled," says Dr. Kahn. In clinical trials, the incidence of adverse reactions associated with the use of DERMATOP was approximately four percent. Reported reactions include mild signs of skin atrophy in one percent of patients, and urticaria (hives), allergic contact dermatitis, paresthesia (heightened sensitivity), burning, rash, edema, and pruritus (itching) in less than one percent of patients.

Please note that this assessment is for information purposes only and should not replace routine mammograms or regular clinical breast exams. For more information, please call 847/856-1220.

Free Health Talk: Guess What You Just Ate?

Thursday, November 4 7 - 8:30 p.m.

You can, by your own knowledge, protect yourself and your family against harmful food additives. A registered dietitian will review public health issues related to food safety and offer suggestions on how to decrease the toxicity of certain foods. This presentation is particularly useful to those with a weakened immune system. To reserve a seat for this presentation, please call 847/856-1220.

Free Screening: Cholesterol and Blood Pressure Screening

Thursday, November 11 8 a.m. - 10:00 a.m.

This simple finger stick method provides results for a total cholesterol screening. Lake County Health Department's "Have A Heart Program" will be on hand to provide blood pressure screenings. Fasting is recommended but not required. To register, please call 847/856-1220.

Free Talk: T'ai Chi Chih! Joy Thru Movement

Thursday, November 11 6:30 - 7:30 p.m.

T'ai Chi Chih is a simple, easy-to-learn, moving meditation form. It can be done by anyone regardless of age or physical condition. With regular T'ai Chi Chih practice one may experience improved balance, blood pressure control and aid stress. Donna McElhose is a certified T'ai Chi Chih instructor. Wear comfortable clothes and bring socks or soft soled shoes. Please call 847/856-1220 to register.

Free Screening: Colorectal Cancer Home Test

Tuesday, November 16 10 a.m. - 12 noon

Colorectal cancer is one of the most frequently diagnosed cancers affecting men and women over age 40. One of the early warning signs, hidden blood in the stool, may be detected by using a simple do-at-home test. Visit the Cancer Resource Center during the above hours and receive your free screening kit with instructions for use. To reserve a colorectal home test, please call 847/856-1220.

Free Talk: Finding Courage To Master Your Anxiety

Tuesday, November 16 7:00 - 8:00 p.m.

19 million Americans are affected by anxiety each year. Reverend Joseph Wilcox will lead the discussion and provide you with insight on how to manage your anxiety. Come and share your feelings and realize how anxiety impacts your life. To reserve your seat, please call 847/856-1220.

Free Talk: Holiday Feasting Making Healthy and Meaningful Choices

Thursday, November 18 7:00 - 8:00 p.m.

Holiday feasting and celebrating need not sabotage a healthy lifestyle. With the holidays just around the corner, why not come and learn how to prepare foods for healthy holiday celebrating. Recipes and self-help tips will be provided. To register for this class, please call 847/856-1220.

Free Screening: Blood Pressure

Saturday, November 20 10 a.m. - 12 noon

Have your blood pressure checked by a healthcare professional. To register please call 847/856-1220.

1999 Ford Explorer's new features make every trip more enjoyable

Ford Explorer gets even more fun this year with a host of new state-of-the-art features. New convenience features added for 1999 include:

- The Reverse Sensing System, a short-range rear warning system that alerts drivers to certain objects near the rear of the vehicle when backing up.

- Side air bags, designed to provide enhanced head and chest protection during certain side-impact crashes.

- Homelink, enabling operation of up to three remote control units, such as a garage door opener, home security system or home lighting, from inside the car.

- Travelnote, an electronic message organizer that records and plays messages.

"Our customers continue to seek the attractive combination of Explorer's sportiness, roominess and versatility," said J.C. Collins, Ford multipurpose vehicle brand manager. "By adding options such as front-seat air bags and a reverse sensing system, Explorer maintains its best-in-class reputation for feature content — a major reason Explorer is so popular."

America's best-selling sport utility vehicle (SUV) also takes on a new look and a new XLS series for 1999. Explorer offers a more aggressive, contemporary appearance, while retaining its traditional strengths: a comfortable, well-appointed interior; an abundance of room and cargo capacity; and safety and security features.

Explorer's new XLS option group brings some of the sporty, stylish appearance of the two-door model to the four-door at a price below that of the four-door XLT. Sales of the two-door Explorer Sport model increased more than 60 percent in the first half of 1998 and now account for one out of every four Explorers purchased.

And, this year, under Ford's sweeping low-emission program, all Ford Motor Company SUVs — including the Ford Ex-

Behind the scenes at the a collision-repair shop

With proper oversight, automobiles can be restored to pre-collision condition

If your vehicle ever has been damaged in a collision, you no doubt had someone say that outdated cliché: Your car will never be the same.

Chances are, it wasn't your insurance-company representative or an employee of a collision-repair shop who said it. That's because every day they see collision-damaged vehicles returned to pre-accident condition — both structurally and cosmetically.

So, what does it take to repair your vehicle properly after an accident? Because of today's complex vehicles and high-quality paint finishes, it's not an easy process. Here are the steps your vehicle goes through after you leave it at the collision-repair shop.

First, the shop prepares a detailed estimate or work order, indicating all of the repairs that are needed. In some cases, this requires removing some of the damaged body panels or other parts to accurately assess all the damage.

The next step is to order the parts listed on the initial estimate or work order. (Additional parts may need to be ordered during the repair process if unforeseen damage is found.) The shop and insurer involved should explain what types of parts will be used: new parts ordered from the manufacturer of your vehicle, used parts ordered through an automotive recycler, or new parts manufactured by a company other than the manufacturer of your vehicle. The shop and insurer can explain the pros and cons of using each type of part.

If your vehicle was hit hard in the accident, the repair shop likely will use a measuring system that checks various points of your vehicle's structure against a measured drawing or "blueprint" of your vehicle. A hydraulic-pulling system can be used to bring all the vehicle's measuring points back to where they should be. The shop may measure your vehicle several times during the repair process to make sure it is within the recommended tolerances of just a few millimeters.

Severely damaged parts are replaced; others can be repaired. A trained technician can repair sheet metal and plastic parts so that it can be difficult, if not impossible to tell they once were damaged.

The vehicle then is ready to move into the shop's paint department. It is here that the areas that are going to be refinished are prepared — repaired areas are finely sanded, primer and corrosion-protection products are applied, and areas that won't be refinished are "masked off" and protected.

Then the painter uses a paint-mixing system to match your vehicle's finish. A paint code on your vehicle provides the starting point, however, it generally requires a trained painter's eye to tint the paint for the ideal match. The paint is sprayed on inside a paint booth designed to keep dust and other contaminants off the new finish. The booth then can be heated to dry or "bake" the new finish according to the paint manufacturer's drying recommendations.

Once refinish work is completed, the vehicle is reassembled including all trim pieces, decals or stripes. Any new glass that is needed usually is installed at this point.

If the damage is severe, or if the vehicle was spun or hit in a tire or wheel in the accident, the vehicle's wheel alignment will be checked. This helps catch any potential problems with the vehicle's steering or suspension parts, and ensures that all four wheels are aligned properly as the vehicle moves down the road.

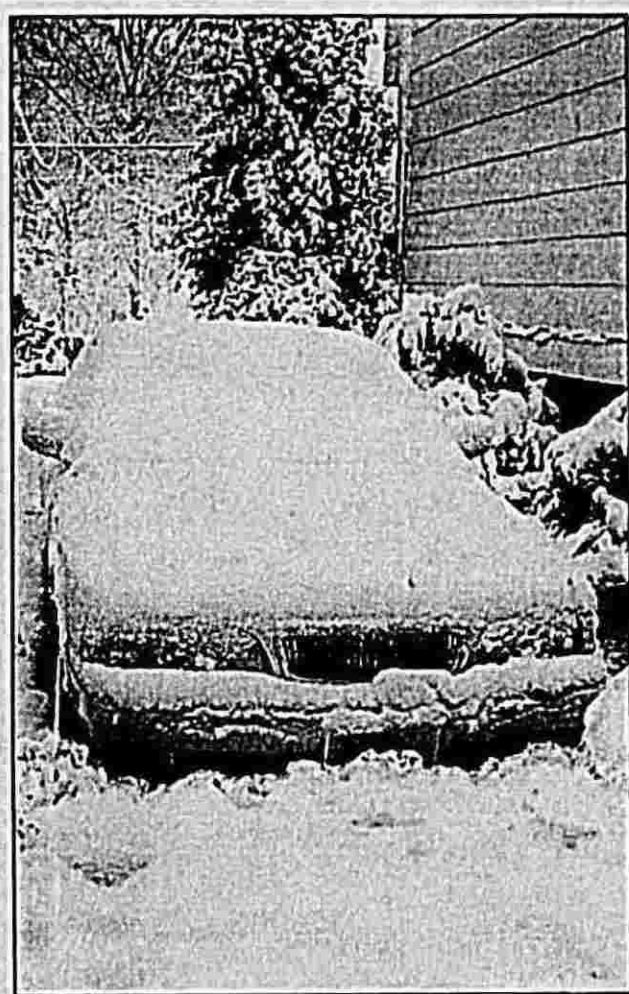

Finally, the vehicle moves to the shop's detailing department for a thorough cleaning inside and out. Any minor imperfections in the new paint surface can be removed by polishing and buffing. A final check is made to ensure all work meets the shop's standards; the final paperwork is prepared for the vehicle-owner and any insurer involved, and the vehicle is ready to go.

Throughout this process, the shop often will be in contact with the insurance company, if one is paying for the repairs. The insurer may want to review the shop's estimate and look at the vehicle before or during the repair process. In some cases, the shop may have to wait for an insurer inspection or approval before completing additional repairs that are needed but weren't included on the initial estimate.

How do you find a shop that knows how to make sure all these steps are followed when your vehicle comes in for repairs? Insurers and shop owners alike say the key is looking for evidence that the shop's technicians have been properly trained. One sign to look for is the I-CAR Gold Class Professionals® designation. This designation signifies that the business has completed a significant amount of I-CAR® training. I-CAR provides the industry's most comprehensive collision-repair training, covering virtually every aspect of the repair and repainting process, from accurately assessing needed repairs to detailing the vehicle after the work is completed. I-CAR established the Gold Class designation to help consumers identify shops that have invested in proper training.

For the location of an I-CAR Gold Class shop near you, call 1-800-ICAR-USA or 1-800-565-4227 in Canada.

Don't Get Buried by the Winter Blues

Old Man Winter doesn't always come quietly. Oftentimes, his arrival is very sudden, giving homeowners quite a shock when they wake up to find the neighborhood buried under a blanket of snow. When winter hits, car owners who have prepared their vehicle for the harsh weather even before the first cold snap will be able to rest easy, knowing that they have done all they can to ensure that their car's engine will run smoothly. Don't wait for winter — avoid getting "buried" by the blues — winterize vehicles in the fall. After all, there won't be time to do it during the winter months, with all the shoveling and ice scraping to be done!

Car-care service centers take disposal of used motor oil off your hands

Just what do people do with that used motor oil once they're done with it?

Well, the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) estimates that, while more than 600 million gallons of motor oil is sold annually in the United States, about 200 million gallons of used motor oil is improperly disposed of each year. ("Improper disposal" of motor oil is defined as dumping it on the ground, tossing it in the trash, or pouring it down storm sewers and drains.)

This is astonishingly significant, considering the fact that used oil from a single oil change (about 1 gallon) can pollute and ruin 1 million gallons of fresh water — a year's supply for 50 people — if poured down a storm drain.*

Engineers at Kendall Motor Oil suggest car-care centers, like Firestone Tire & Service Centers, as a convenient solution for consumers who want to provide quick and easy maintenance for their cars without dealing with the disposal issues associated with old tires and used oil.

"Not only is a car-care service center like Firestone a hassle-free option in terms of getting routine maintenance performed on your car, but it also takes the responsibility of disposing of used oil out of consumers' hands, while ensuring the oil will be disposed of properly or recycled and refined to make new motor oil," says John Freaney, marketing manager for Kendall Motor Oil.

While close to 60 percent of American motorists changed their own oil in 1989*, that figure has dropped to about 50 percent over the last 10 years. "We're seeing a growing trend toward people taking their cars to service centers because more and more people these days would rather have someone else change their oil than do it themselves," says Pete Pistone, manager of public relations for Firestone Tire & Service Centers.

However, for those do-it-yourselfers who like to change their own oil, Kendall Motor Oil offers the following tips for disposing of used oil properly.

- Collect used oil in a disposable container or specially designed oil-drain container.
- Take the container of used oil to a designated collection center.

Pistone emphasizes that people should not dispose of used oil by pouring it on the ground or throwing it in the trash, spreading it on roads, or pouring it into sewer or storm drains.

According to engineers at Kendall Motor Oil, car-care centers, like Firestone Tire & Service Centers, are a convenient solution for consumers who want to provide quick and easy maintenance for their cars without dealing with the disposal issues associated with old tires and used oil.

Slip, sliding away - stay on track with these winter driving tips

If you live in the northern two-thirds of the country, it's difficult to avoid the tricky driving conditions that arrive with winter. We may not be able to control Mother Nature, but motorists can tame the treacherous roadways a bit by exercising caution and common sense.

Before you pull into traffic, check the following:

- Windshield wipers and fluid. Be sure the wipers are not frozen to the windshield and wipe them clean with a paper towel or soft cloth. Keep your washer fluid filled and carry a reserve supply with you.

- Headlights, brake lights and taillights. Make sure they are working, and that they are not covered with snow or salty grime. When conditions are slippery, you don't want to risk other drivers overlooking your presence.

- Side and Rearview Mirrors. Don't forget to brush snow and ice off your side mirrors as you clean off your car. Likewise, you'll want to be sure that the rear window remains clear, this often means making sure the roof is free of snow as well.

- Your Survival Kit. Your vehicle should be equipped with warm clothes, a blanket, tire chains, a small shovel, a first aid kit, flashlight, unused cat litter (to place under your wheels for traction should you get stuck), and jumper cables -- until spring arrives.

While you are driving in stormy conditions:

- Keep your low beam headlights on, even during the day.
- Do everything more slowly - turning, stopping, accelerating.
- Place a greater distance between your car and the one in front of you. Slippery conditions can triple the distance it takes to come to a complete stop.

- Drive defensively. Keep your eyes open, and anticipate what other drivers may do.

- If your car begins to fishtail, turn in the direction of the skid and keep your foot off the brake. (If the rear of your car veers to the right, turn your steering wheel in the same direction.)

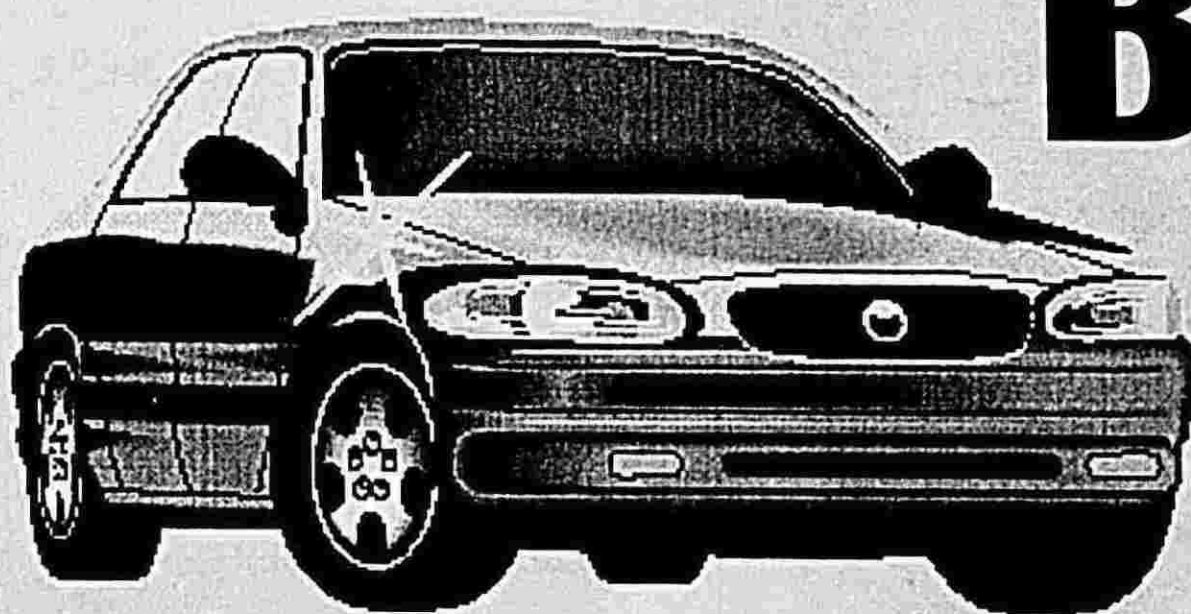

- When braking on a slippery surface, allow plenty of time and pump the brakes gently to avoid skidding. Anti-lock brakes provide the lone exception to this rule. If you have ABS, press on the brake pedal firmly and hold. Expect noise and vibration; this means the ABS is working. Pumping and extreme steering may cause you to lose control.

- Keep in mind that bridges and overpasses freeze more quickly than roadways. Use extra caution while driving on them, and beware of "black ice" when the road appears dry but is darker than usual and very slick.

- Before maneuvering through a turn, brake while the car is still traveling straight. Then, take your foot off the brake as you turn, but don't accelerate until you begin to straighten the steering wheel again.

If you get stuck:

- Rock your car gently back and forth to gain momentum that may free you.
- Do not spin your wheels in one place. This only digs you in deeper.
- Make use of the kitty litter in your survival kit. Toss some under the wheels for traction. Sand, salt, cardboard and/or grocery bags can also be used.
- Shovel snow away from your tires.

How to save your car from harsh winter weather

Rain, mud, snow and salt are all tough on drivers. But have you ever thought how tough these elements are on your car?

"To prepare for winter, I always check my tires, the antifreeze and the windshield wipers," explains Mark Warren, a resident of Chicago. "As far as the appearance of my car, I usually buy rubber floor mats to protect the carpet. I never stop to think about how weather and road salt will affect the finish of my car."

Most drivers don't think about washing their car during the winter months. Some even think that washing their car in winter will damage their vehicle.

"Washing your car in the winter months can be one of the most beneficial things you can do to maintain the value of your car," explains Mark Thorsby, executive director of the International Carwash Association, a not-for-profit trade association committed to educating the motoring public on vehicle maintenance.

"If left on your car, mud, salt, rain and snow can damage your car's clear finish. Mud and salt caked on the undercarriage can even help promote rust - especially in older vehicles - and can also affect how well your car drives," said Thorsby. "The car is the first or second greatest asset for the average family. Keeping your vehicle clean by frequenting a professional car wash is one of the best defenses in protecting a car's finish and the family's investment."

According to studies compiled by the association, one of the most critical times to wash your car is immediately after a rainfall. As rain falls, it collects pollutants from the air, a concept commonly referred to as "acid rain." Even after a light rainfall, rainwater and pollutants fall on your car. The water eventually evaporates, leaving a thin film of pollutants that can damage your car's finish.

"The longer you leave these pollutants on your car, the more damage they will inflict on your car's finish," said Thorsby. "Washing your vehicle immediately after a rainfall helps prevent damage."

Snow and sleet can also result in the same damaging effects as acid rain and are often compounded by chemicals in road salt. To prevent winter damage, the ICA recommends washing your vehicle every 10 days.

"We recommend washing your car in a professional car wash rather than your driveway," said Thorsby. "Professional car washes are gentler on auto finishes than a bucket and hose, and they use cleaning solutions specially formulated for today's more complex car finishes."

As an added bonus, ICA claims that professional car washes use biodegradable cleaning solutions, far less water than driveway washes and dispose of waste water responsibly - not down the storm sewer where it can contaminate lakes and streams.

To minimize, even eliminate, damage to your car this winter, follow these simple tips:

- At a full-service car wash, ask the attendant to thoroughly dry around the inside of the door and trunk, as well as the joint where power antennas attach to the vehicle. At a self-service or exterior only car wash, bring a few towels with you so you can do this yourself.

- Immediately after washing the vehicle, open and close all doors, the trunk and other parts of the car with locks several times before parking it (this will eliminate water freezing in locks in extreme cold).

- Wash your car every 10 days and right after a snow or rain shower.

- Wax your car at least every six months. More frequent waxing is needed if your car is red, black or white, as these colors are more susceptible to acid rain and UV rays.

Go to a professional car wash that is professionally managed, has clean facilities and uses well-maintained equipment. For the address of a professional car wash near you, visit <http://www.carwashes.com/>

EXPLORER: New features means fun

plorer and Expedition — and the Ford Windstar minivan will be sold nationally as low-emission vehicles (LEVs). The 1999-model Explorer will not only beat emission standards for trucks, it will be cleaner than most passenger cars on the road today, emitting 40 percent less smog-forming emissions than before.

A detailed description of new convenience and safety features and other 1999 highlights follow:

The ReverseSensing System, a new convenience feature for 1999, is an optional short-range warning system that helps alert the driver to the presence of certain objects near the rear of the vehicle when backing up. The system works using sonar. Four ultrasonic sensors in the rear bumper detect obstacles from 10 inches to approximately 6 feet to the rear. The driver is alerted by a beeping sound that increases in frequency until the obstacle is less than 10 inches from the rear bumper. Then the tone becomes continuous.

Violence summit set

The Lake County Association of Home and Community Education will convene a countywide Summit on Violence Nov. 20, from 8 a.m. to noon, at the College of Lake County.

The summit, endorsed by Lake County State's Attorney Michael Waller, will give residents a first-hand opportunity for public dialogue on problems associated with violence and how to address them.

Cole on committee

County Board member Sandy Cole (R-Grayslake) has been named a member of the National Association of Counties' (NACo) Community and Development Steering Committee by NACo President C. Vernon Gray.

The Community and Economic Development Steering Committee focuses on general community development and redevelopment; residential, commercial and industrial development; housing programs; building and housing codes; subdivision regulation; and public works and economic development.

Museum gets grant

A $25,000 grant from the Chicago Community Trust will help bring the Chicago story to life at the Lake County Museum near Wauconda.

The grant will help fund the Chicago Connection portion of the museum's new Mall of History exhibits scheduled to open in the spring of 2000.

Tavern owners still upset over liquor changes

Bar owners hope to reach compromise with county on hours of operation

By JOHN ROSZKOWSKI

Tom Hendrickson used to get a fairly good late night crowd at his bar, Fogcutters, on the corner of Route 45 and Grand Avenue.

After work, many second shifters who worked in the restaurants near Gurnee Mills would stop by his bar for a late night drink before going home.

That all changed three months ago, however, after the Lake County Board approved a change in bar hours for unincorporated areas of the county. Beginning July 1, bars in the unincorporated areas were forced to close one hour earlier—at 1 a.m. on weekdays and 2 a.m. on weekends.

Hendrickson's once thriving late night bar business has dwindled with the earlier closing time. Many of the regulars who used to stop off at the bar after work for a drink are now driving to villages where the bars stay open later.

It's something that makes him, and many other bar owners in the unincorporated areas, angry.

"It's like Big Brother's telling you what you can and cannot do. It's just one more government regulation being shoved down our throats," said Hendrickson.

Hendrickson said when the County Board enacted the new bar hours three months ago it claimed the intent was to stop people from

Seminar attempts to diffuse bomb threats in the schools

By JOHN ROSZKOWSKI
Regional Editor

In response to a rash of bomb threats in the schools, Lake County officials attended a seminar this week on how to respond to future problems that arise.

Regional School Superintendent Ed Gonwa sent letters to all the superintendents in Lake County requesting they attend the Bomb Threat Management Seminar. The seminar was held on the College of Lake County's Grayslake campus.

"We have had a rash (of bomb threats) here in Lake County," said Gonwa. "I believe five districts in Lake County have had threats this year and some have had multiple threats. We are looking at this issue very seriously."

Among the schools that have reported bomb threats this year include Antioch High School, Grant High School, Mundelein High School, Round Lake High School, Stevenson High School and the Lake County High School Technology campus. Many of the threats have been in the last few weeks and several students have been arrested in connection with the threats.

The purpose of the seminar was to give school officials information on bomb threat management and to assist them in developing individualized bomb threat plans for their district. Representatives from the Cook County Sheriff's office and the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms were scheduled to present information at the seminar. Officials from the Lake County Sheriff's Department were also expected to attend.

Gonwa said the seminar was "very timely" and he encouraged all superintendents to attend "so they'll be able to deal with bomb threats in the most effective manner."

Gonwa said all steps must be taken to reduce the likelihood of future threats.

"It has to stop. It definitely has to stop," he said of the threats. "I think the first concern of our school officials is the safety of our children."

Lake County Board Chairman Jim LaBelle remains uncertain whether he will seek another term on the board.

"I'm in the process of just evaluating that. I need to make a decision soon, but I want to think it through," said LaBelle (R-Zion), who has been a board member for 20 years.

"I'm anticipating running, but I'm just allowing myself time to think about it," he added.

The 48-year-old LaBelle made a miraculous comeback after years of struggles with cancer to be elected chairman of the County Board last year. It is the second time he has served as board chairman.

LaBelle said the rigors of campaigning and the negativism that can sometimes be associated with a campaign makes him think twice about a bid. "Whenever you're a candidate, there's a significant amount of time and effort, and at the same time, you need to be ready for the pain of running," he said.

Still, LaBelle said he's leaning to-

Writing to save the VA

There's still time for veterans to write and let their views be known about proposed cuts in services at the North Chicago VA Medical Center.

The Veterans Administration has extended the deadline to Nov. 30 to allow stakeholders (veterans, their families and hospital staff) to provide comments on the "VISN 12" report. The report calls for transferring all inpatient services at the North Chicago VA to other facilities in the Chicago area.

The address on the Internet to review the report is www.va.gov/cno/. A mailbox is included on the website where comments can be sent.

Written comments can also be submitted to: Chief Network Office (10N), 810 Vermont Ave., NW, Washington, DC 20420.

Ceremony remembers the 'unmarked' soldiers

By SANDY HARTOGH
Staff Reporter

The lack of governmental honor and respect that Vietnam War veterans felt after serving their country has been recorded in history.

Those feelings have been somewhat mollified by the creation of the Vietnam Memorial in Washington, D.C.

While this portion of history has affected a multitude of service men and women, one would wonder if there were any other incidents of U.S. veterans who have been left to fall by the wayside; veterans unremembered by the government that they so diligently strove to protect.

Meet Private Michael Keegan, a Seventh U.S. Cavalry soldier who was found buried in an unmarked pauper's grave nine years ago by historian Randy Johnson.

Johnson, who is a member of the Little Big Horn Association was doing research on survivors of the Battle of Little Big Horn, more famously known as "Custer's Last Stand." He came across Keegan's grave at the Calvary Cemetery in Evanston. Although Keegan's name was on the list of soldiers buried there, his gravesite had no headstone or military markings of any kind, said Bill Blake, supervisory staff administrator of the 16th Psychological Operations Battalion Reserve at Fort Sheridan in Lake Forest.

After his discovery, Johnson asked the Veteran's Administration to place a headstone on the grave. They acceded to his request.

The idea to exhume Keegan's remains and give them a proper military service came in 1997, after Johnson discussed Keegan's story with members of VFW Post 2202 in Schaumburg.

Keegan will finally, after almost 100 years, be given a full military service and burial at Fort Sheridan in the "11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month" this year.

Keegan originally hailed from Wexford County, Ireland. Records indicate he enlisted in the U.S. Army on July 3, 1855 at the age of 29. He was assigned to the Second Cavalry in Jefferson Barracks, Missouri until 1864. In 1865, the last year of the American Civil War, his company became the Fifth Cavalry. He was discharged in 1867 by expiration of his service.

A truly dedicated soldier, Keegan rejoined the army one week later in the Seventh Cavalry. While in service with this regiment, he fought in the Battle of the Washita River in 1868, protected railroad workers along the Yellowstone River in 1873 and explored The Black Hills in 1874, the year gold was discovered there.

In 1876, the Seventh Cavalry went to Montana in search of hostile Sioux and Cheyenne Indians. Keegan's commanding officer was the historical Colonel George A. Custer.

By this time, Keegan was suffering from chronic rheumatism. He was left behind at Powder River to guard the regiment's wagons and supplies while Custer and about 600 soldiers went on to the Little Big Horn River to stage an attack on the Native Americans. Little did Custer know the Indians numbered over 2,500.

Call it his "lucky day," but Private Keegan escaped the massacre of Custer and 261 soldiers at the Battle of Little Big Horn.

Keegan was discharged from the army later that year because of his health affliction. According to military records, he never married and lived in soldiers' homes until 1886—the last one being in Milwaukee. He lived in a Chicago boarding room until July of 1900 when he died of cancer.

According to Blake, the Veteran's Administration has no answers as to why a man who dedicated 21 years of his life to protecting the U.S. was found in an unmarked grave.

"This soldier had no military service and no religious service whatsoever," remarked Blake, who is co-coordinator of the Veteran's Day re-burial of Keegan. "It's an injustice to his dedication and service to his adopted country."

Thursday, Nov. 11, Keegan will be re-buried four gravesites away from his first military sergeant. The Irish Consulate General will be at the service to accept the burial flag.

"It will be a proud day for Irish and Wexford people to have Michael Keegan receive a proper military burial," wrote Vice Consul Fiona Flood in a letter to Tom Day, coordinator of the event.

Also on the agenda to honor Keegan and all veterans will be three Civil War cannon units, Union Army uniformed pallbearers, the Chicago Emerald Society Pipes and Drums, and the Color Guard of the Seventh Cavalry of Ft. Hood, Texas.

R.J. Samp, a world famous Union Army Bugler will also be in attendance, as well as folk in period costumes. President Clinton has forwarded a Presidential Certificate honoring Keegan's memory, which will be presented at the service.

Blake invites everyone to attend this Veteran's Day Memorial Service, which will begin promptly at 11:00 a.m. at Fort Sheridan's Post Cemetery.

Moore out of race

By JOHN ROSZKOWSKI
Regional Editor

Deciding the timing wasn't right for her to make a bid for Congress, State Rep. Andrea Moore announced she would continue her bid to win re-election to the Illinois House.

Moore, R-Libertyville, said she strongly considered running for U.S. Rep. John Porter's seat when he announced his retirement last month, but after careful thought decided not to run.

"I really gave it very careful consideration. I think the Republicans have a very good chance of keeping this seat, but for me, the timing wasn't quite right. I have a couple things for my legislative area I'd really like to finish, one of them is the task force on growth," Moore said.

Moore was named to the Illinois General Assembly's Growth Task Force for her experience dealing with growth and development issues, both as a former Lake County Board member and a legislator.

Moore said she also has played a key leadership role in organizing the Conference of Women Legislators. "This year, I've taken a leadership role to further organize the group. I feel I need to follow through on that commitment," she said.

Moore said she had been planning to seek re-election to her 61st District seat in the Illinois House for several months and she wants to continue the work she is doing there.

"I had been moving in that direction (running for re-election to the House) pretty clearly and the congressional seat was a total surprise," she said.

Moore's announcement that she would not seek Porter's seat comes just a little more than a week after Lt. Gov. Corrine Wood announced she not be a candidate.

A DIGEST OF STORIES MAKING HEADLINES THROUGHOUT OUR REGION

Fishing trip ends in tragedy

Antioch—A 24-year-old Fox Lake man drowned while on a canoe fishing trip on Lake Marie in Antioch. The initial report of a person in the water came in the night of Oct. 29.

Following a two-hour search Friday night, and an approximate 45-minute search Saturday morning, the body was recovered in 12 and a half feet of water 125 yards east of the Lake Marie shoreline. An estimated 12 to 15 divers from Antioch, Lake Villa, Fox Lake, Spring Grove and Round Lake fire departments participated in the search, according to Jim Robinson, Antioch divemaster.

The victim, Todd A. Talbot, originally of Mundelein where his parents still reside and most recently from Fox Lake, was pronounced dead at 9:25 a.m., according to Lake County Coroner Barbara Richardson. Talbot was not wearing a life jacket.

Two bomb threats hit ACHS

Antioch—A bomb threat called into the high school attendance answering machine at 10 p.m., Oct. 28 resulting in another day of canceled classes at Antioch Community High School (ACHS). The call was discovered by school staff who routinely check the machine in the morning upon their arrival. The call was discovered at 6:45 a.m., according to Antioch Police Chief Charlie Watkins. School administration made the decision to cancel classes at approximately 7:00 a.m.

Police, fire and school officials made another search of the building, just as they had done seven days earlier.

"Nothing was found," said Bill Ahlers, ACHS business manager. Watkins said his department is following up on any possible leads just as they had done a week before. The investigation is continuing, according to Watkins.

Another threat was phoned into ACHS at approximately 8:30 a.m. Nov. 1. This one was more specific, according to Dr. Dennis Hockney, ACHS superintendent, with the caller saying the bomb was in one of the washrooms. Dr. James Love, principal, and Bill Ahlers, business manager, made the determination to pull the fire alarm and evacuate the building "like a fire drill." A search was conducted by school authorities of the washrooms with nothing being found. Students returned to classes within about 15 minutes, according to Hockney, and the school day continued "as normal."

Village questions payment

Lindenhurst—How much do you need? That is the question the Lindenhurst village board has for The Millennium Commission. The commission announced Oct. 20 plans to have a world wide web site. That is fine and good, according to the Lindenhurst village officials.

The problem comes in a request for each municipality in Lake County, numbering 52 according to Trustee Fred Messmer, contributing $1,000 each to fund the site. The village board, at Messmer's suggestion, tabled the request until further information as to the actual cost of the site is received.

"They needed $52,000, then divided it," quipped Trustee Carl Norlin. Millennium Commission officials failed to return phone messages regarding the issue. Village boards in Gurnee and Wadsworth have also questioned the need for the payment and are considering withholding their $1,000.

Football finally played under lights

Libertyville—The Libertyville High School Wildcat Football Parents' Association (WFPA) recently received enough money to install the long-awaited lights for the school's football field.

Developer Mike Werchek donated the money to the WFPA.

The donated money will pay for several other improvements in addition to the lights. A new concession stand and restroom facility will be built. Items such as field maintenance equipment, new sod and landscaping will also be purchased.

The parents' association finally received the school board's blessing to start raising money for the lights last month. Since, the WFPA formed a Light Brigade Committee to focus on the pursuit.

As the board had recommended, the parents' association maintained contact with football field neighbors during the process, according to WFPA Light Brigade Committee Chair Greg Krause.

Cook Library still needs solutions

Libertyville—A new citizens' committee recently began a second search for solutions to Cook Memorial Library's many problems. They will focus their efforts on planning and funding long due expansion for the district.

A kick-off meeting for the 52 person committee will most likely be held Nov. 10, said library trustees at a special meeting last week.

At the special meeting, Attorney Jim Dash of Libertyville was named executive chair. David R. Metzger of Libertyville, also an attorney, will join him on the executive board as co-chair. Additionally, Hope Babowice, a newspaper journalist from Libertyville, will serve as executive secretary.

Together with the chairs of four separate citizens' committees, they will lead members in a four to six-month process of study and evaluation.

Gurnee—Gurnee Village Board officials postponed their decision to approve a $1,000 donation to the Lake County Millennium Commission.

Trustee Don Rudny called the board's attention to the fact that making such a donation might set a precedent for other community organizations to ask the village for donations.

Mayor Richard Welton countered by pointing out that Gurnee would benefit from the increased sales and hotel/motel taxes the county's millennium events might bring to the village.

Riverboat case to stay here

Fox Lake—A Lake County Judge gave Lake County Riverboat Partners, Inc. reason for hope when he ruled the lawsuit against the Illinois Gaming Board must be heard in Lake County.

Judge Josh Goshgarian issued the ruling on Oct. 28. Later, Village of Rosemont officials and neighboring towns asked to be part of the case of Emerald Casino, which would operate the riverboat in Rosemont.

"Judging by the effort of the state made to move the case to Cook County, it is significant. The Partnership felt it always belonged here," Paul Chervin, attorney for Lake County Riverboat Partners, said.

The Riverboat Partners hope the case can be litigated "as fast as anyone," he said.

The surrounding towns and Rosemont contend they will lose money if the license is granted to Fox Lake. A hearing on that motion will be held Nov. 16.

Bank opens in January

Round Lake Heights—The branches of Lakeland Community Bank at 835 W. Rollins Road in Round Lake Heights and 1310 S. Route 12 in Fox Lake, have announced they will be open from 9 a.m. until noon on January 1, 2000.

In the event of a blackout at the Round Lake Heights location, a generator will provide sufficient lighting throughout the lobby, teller, loan and customer service areas.

However, should the Fox Lake branch suffer a black-out, the bank will not be open. Customers will be directed to the Round Lake Heights office by signs.

The Fox Lake branch will be open as planned if there are no problems due to the date change.

Door decorators wanted

Round Lake Beach—School and community groups, local businesses, churches and area families are invited to brighten the holiday season for residents of Hillcrest Nursing Center in Round Lake Beach by stopping in to decorate their doors.

Last year, 117 doors were decorated for the holidays.

Doors will be judged Dec. 16 by community representatives. Cash prizes will be awarded at a dessert party that evening.

Peaker plant forum planned

Wadsworth—A public meeting on peaker power plants will take place Nov. 9 at 7 p.m. at the Wadsworth Village Hall.

The meeting will inform the community about deregulation of the electric power industry in Illinois; explain what a peaker plant is and describe a typical site plan; and review the permit, approval and zoning process.

Issues to be brought up will include air and noise pollution, water usage, waste water, wetlands and flood plains, compatibility, property values, economics and public need.

Festival of Trees nearing

Lake County—The Victory Hospital Foundation's eighth annual Festival of Trees is nearing.

"First Night in the Forest" tree lighting will be at 6 p.m., Nov. 17 at Midlane Country Club, located at 4555 Yorkhouse Road in Waukegan.

Beginning Nov. 18 through Nov. 21, the festival is open to the general public. Admission is $4 per adult and $2 per senior citizen or child under 12.

Besides the dozens of decorated trees, there will be crafts and games for children in Santa's Workshop, a bake shop and the expanded Old World Holiday Gift Shoppe.

Tickets can be purchased by calling 360-4248, or by stopping by Victory Hospital at 1324 North Sheridan Road in Waukegan from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Filling Porter seat a national event

Forces are in motion that could well turn the 10th Congressional Dist., covering about a third of Lake County and roughly half its population into one of the nation's marquee contests in the 2000 general election.

The spotlight of national interest already has been directed on the 10th, due not only to the unexpected retirement of incumbent Congressman John Porter (R-Wilmotte), a highly respected member of the House Appropriations Committee and a ranking sub-committee chairman, but because of the district's broad demographic range and diversity of political opinion.

The departure of an entrenched U.S. Representative typically attracts a large field of candidates. That has been the history going back nearly 50 years in the 10th Dist. that runs along the shores of Lake Michigan, particularly in the Republican party. Now it appears the same will be true in the Democratic party as the result of social and economic restructuring in the northern suburbs during the 80s and 90s. There is little doubt of a wide open primary fight in both parties next spring. Thus the stage is being set for a battle of national significance in November. Coming during a presidential year, the stakes will be even higher.

Republicans have been elected to represent the diverse district for half a century, but Democrats have been making strides at the General Assembly level, holding two representative seats in Lake County and a state senate district. For all practical purposes, the 10th is a swing district and ripe for a total Democrat takeover. That's why Democratic party leaders are licking their chops.

Porter's brand of Republicanism fit the 10th like a glove, fiscally conservative, but middle road on social issues. As a self-styled moderate, Porter in truth was liberal enough on abortion and gun control to attract support of liberals and independents election after election. He ran unopposed in 1998. Porter's only misstep in recent years as far as liberals in the sophisticated and highly educated district were concerned was his vote in support of impeachment of President Clinton.

With the seat up for grabs, prominent Republicans have been cautious about wading into shark-infested waters of a district in transition. Not so for State Rep. Lauren-Beth Gash (D-Highland Park) who has been cultivating a moderate image for years. The out-spoken independent Democrat professes readiness to take on all comers in the Democratic primary including Chris Kennedy, a resident of the district and a scion of, yes, those Kennedys. In the age of celebrity politics, Kennedy could literally bowl over the district, including Republican strongholds like Libertyville Township.

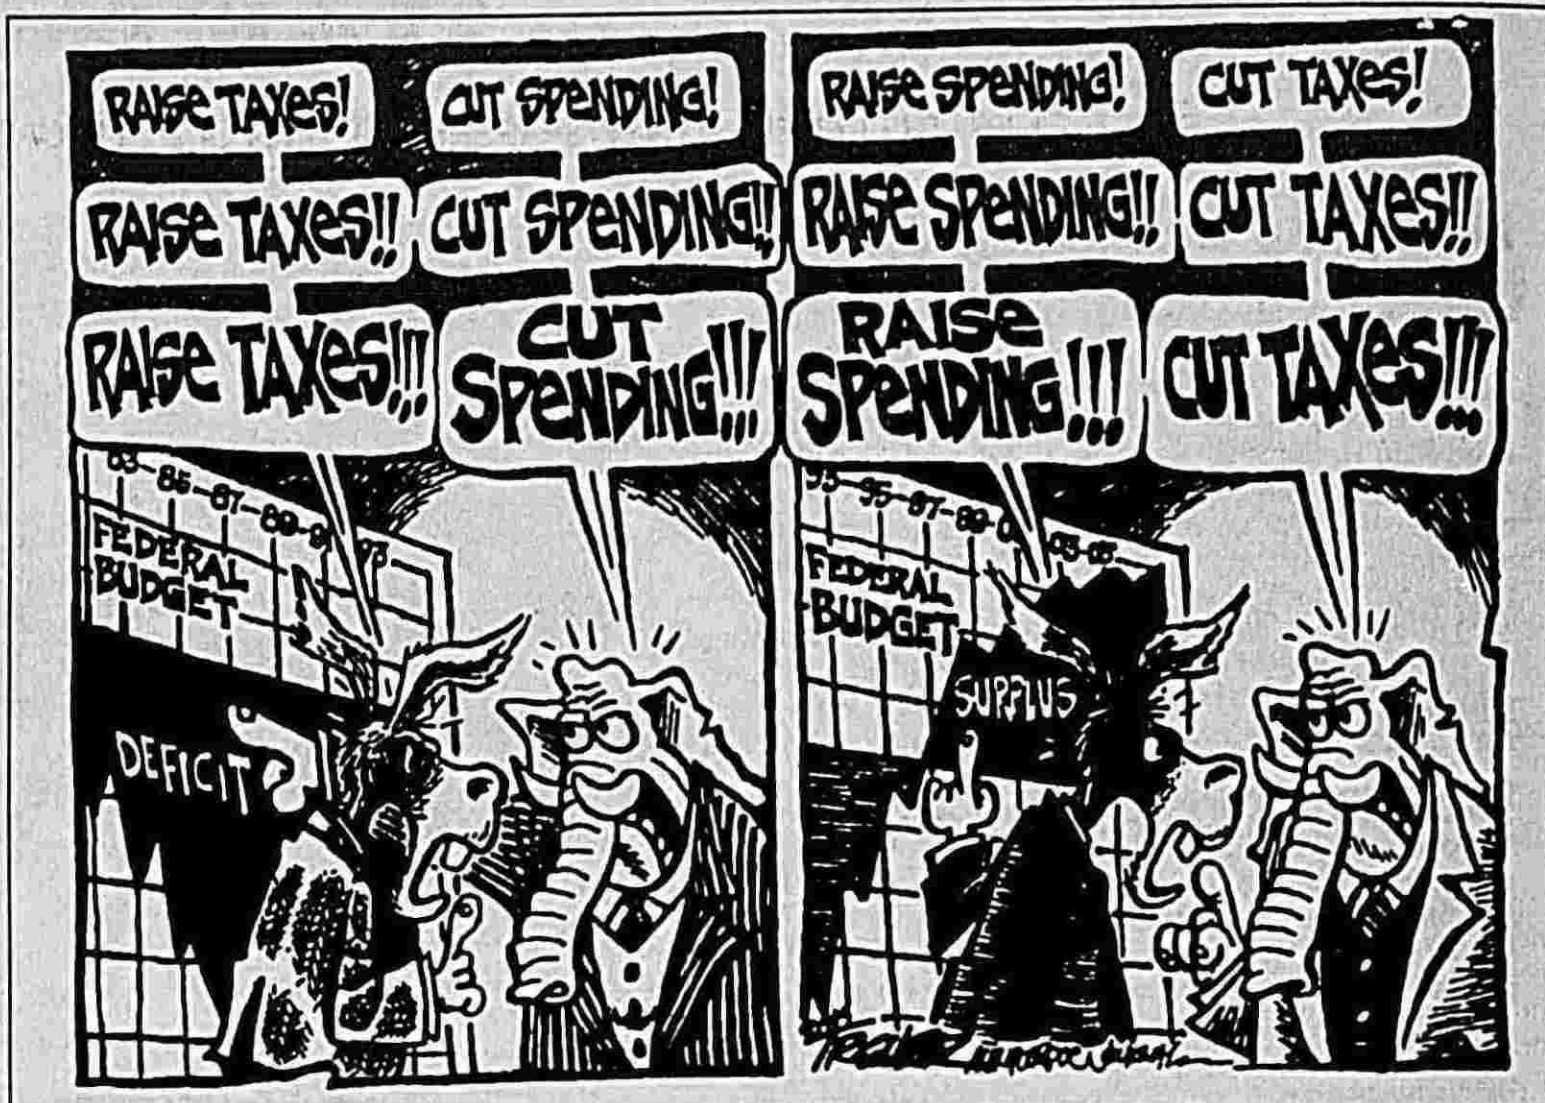

What is intriguing about the 2000 race in the 10th is how the candidates in both parties will deal with national issues. We anticipate the race to fill the Porter seat to turn on the same questions shaping the election of a new president next year. The 10th Dist. is a microcosm of the U.S.

Clintonism has changed the face of the Democratic party, making it much more difficult to pigeon-hole. Early in his career John Porter could scorn traditional Democrats while reaching out to liberals on choice and sensitive race issues. But the Carter-Mondale-Dukakis era is over. GOP aspirants for the Porter seat will be dealing with a Clintonized Democrat, a moving target, neither Left or Right. Without a doubt, Republicans lining up to succeed Congressman Porter have an indelible picture of frenzied 10th Dist. Democrats who battered the distinguished Congressional leader for his courageous stand against a disgraced president.

It won't be long before evidence will surface to show how much the political scene has changed without John Porter.

Tourism booming in Lake County

Tourism is big in Lake County. And it's getting bigger. That was the message that resounded at a Friday night reception for members and friends who enjoyed a hot and cold hors d'oeuvres celebrating the 15th anniversary of the Lake County Convention & Visitors Bureau.

The bureau, now a private organization, was launched in 1984 with a $7,000 grant from the Lake County Board. Local tourism has grown to the point where Lake County can duke it out with the likes of Las Vegas, Nev., for sheer numbers of visitors.

In keeping with the "no place like home" theme, beverages served celebrants came from Mickey Finn's popular micro brewery in Libertyville and the Glunz Family Winery and Cellars located in Grayslake.

Gail Svendsen, the irrepressible president and CEO of the bureau which draws its membership from the bigs (Great America, Gurnee Mills, etc.) to the mainstreet smalls, capped a list of speakers who extolled a major industry that stands along side the Abbotts, Baxters, and Fortune 500 companies that contribute mightily to the Lake County economy with jobs and taxes.

Statistics which Svendsen enjoys spotlighting most are the overall business volume generated by county tourism, $680 million for 1998, latest figures available; the local tourism payroll generated of $182 million for 1998; $33 million state tax receipts derived from Lake County tourism, and $16 million contributed to the local tax base. These figures will be eclipsed this year and look to be surpassed in

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

2000.

Official host for the evening was Rick Breeden of Wauconda Orchards, a solid agricultural enterprise with a hefty tourism arm. The Breeden family business represents the broad range of privately owned businesses that make up the bulk of the Lake County tourism industry. Breeden, Bureau chairman, mentioned that Lake County tourism goes back 100 years. Those were the days when wealthy Chicagoans traded city heat for balmy Lake Michigan breezes on the North Shore and not so wealthy Chicagoans headed for Chain O' Lakes for summer relaxation and to view the once world-famous lilly pads.

Keynoter Corinne Wood, Illinois' perky lieutenant governor, found total agreement in the observation that "there's an awful lot to do" in Lake County. Wood pointed out that tourism in Illinois is a $21 billion business or was in 1998 that has no end in sight.

An example of the vibrancy of the Lake County tourism industry is the prestigious Women's Western Golf Tournament to be played next year at the Merit Club on Rte. 21 between Gurnee and Libertyville. (See business page this issue for additional details).

Not to be overlooked was the setting of the anniversary fete, an attractive three-season party tent at Lakewood Farms Forest Preserve. The tent is connected to the Lake County Museum, one of the jewels of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist., an acclaimed tourist attraction in itself.

Yule attraction

Mundelein MainStreet has secured a heated trolley car for visitors to enjoy a special tour of residential holiday lighting Dec. 10, and Dec. 17, but riders must reserve in advance after Dec. 1 by calling 970-9235. The trolley tour is part of a "Lights of Mundelein" program.

Sports record

We've been wondering if any research is being done to document Antioch's phenomenal comeback to score eight points in four seconds to tie the score and set the stage for a comeback football victory over Stevenson a few weeks ago. Has to be some kind of record.

Restaurant revival

Atty. Lou Bridges and his wife are refurbishing the Parkway Restaurant on Belvidere Rd. in Waukegan. For many years before its closing it was one of Lake County's premier eateries. They expect to reopen as the Bridge House in time for holiday business. Three generations of the Paulson family operated the Parkway.

Bradley and McCain—underdogs or 'Top dogs'

Knowing that I am a Democrat, I have been asked by some who my choice is for the presidential nomination next year. I guess that I have surprised many of them when I have answered quite quickly that it is former U.S. Senator Bill Bradley. Of course, they always ask me "why."

No, it is not the "Clinton factor," the one that is turning so many Democrats to abandon Vice-President Al Gore. They are starting to believe that Gore can't win next November, while Bradley has a chance.

My selection goes right to the heart of what I believe that the candidate for the highest office in the land must show me. Who will be the best leader of the country and the free world? Which candidate has deep convictions and speaks out for those beliefs? Which candidate shows the sincerity that seems to me to be the trait that people are quick to support. They seem to separate the phonies from the "real thing."

Much has been said about where the candidates stand on the issues, and that is important, but I believe that the public knows that you can't be "everything to everybody," and they search for qualities of leadership that are genuine. It is unfortunate that "big money" that is becoming so scandalous in political campaigns can contribute to clouding who the candidate really is.

Having said all of the above, who do I "like" Bill Bradley? When Al Gore speaks, I get the feeling that his words and gestures are "too measured." Sometimes his hand movements aren't "in sync" with the words coming out, so I sense that "all is not sincere."

It may be that I had a bias for Bill Bradley from the start because I liked his independence from the "establishment." I always appreciate public officials who have a mind of their own and don't "bow to the

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Carter-Pappas clash launched two years ago

Fox Lake Mayor Ilm Pappas' decision to challenge County Board Rep. Bonnie Thomson Carter (R-Ingle-side) in 2000 will be a political collision that had its beginning almost as soon as Pappas took office in 1997.

The bearded village executive declared war from Day One when Carter pulled an upset victory over incumbent Ed Fojtik three years ago and hasn't stopped sniping at the energetic County Board member since.

Carter expressed chagrin when Pappas seized one of her long-time themes of obtaining school impact fees for unincorporated areas as though he invented the idea. Carter, a former school board member, quickly regained her composure, though, when backers reminded her that she has a head start in Wauconda Township, a key part of the district which includes Grant Township where both candidates reside.

Carter unseated Fojtik by 30 votes. She's no stranger to the time-honored political concept of campaigning full-time. Carter is noted for hard work and standing up for west Lake County interests like the right to burn leaves and flood controls.

Rathje on the move

Supreme Court Justice S. Louis Rathje may be the senior member of the trio of DuPage County Republicans seeking a nomination for the high court from the Second Judicial Dist. that includes Lake County. But he's no mossback when it comes to campaigning. Justice Rathje has an impressive Internet link from the local to national level. He's also putting out the "Rathje Report," a campaign newsletter for 3,500 key GOP workers. Wearing a natty sport coat, the 35-year vet of the legal profession made a quick run-through of the county last week, vowing to return soon.

Engler tells how

House GOP Leader Lee

Carter: Will face solid challenge from Fox Lake mayor

Daniels reeled in a tidy sum Wednesday night at $500 per couple for a House Republican Campaign Committee fund-raiser at the Ivanhoe Club on Route 60. Guest Speaker Gov. John Engler of Michigan told how the strength of the party and key to a White House victory in 2000 lies with the nation's Republican governors. He's one of the GOP governors.

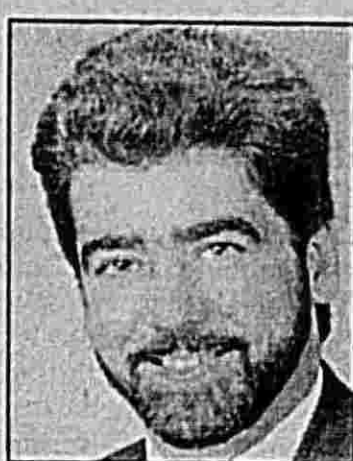

Required attendance

Veteran State Sen. Bill Peterson (R-Long Grove) has found the key to running a successful fund-raising event. Make the gathering more of a social than a political occasion. That's why his annual brunch Nov. 21 will be over-flowing with backers at Marriott's Lincolnshire Resort. Peterson supporters have the annual brunch on their "must attend" calendar. Tickets for $50 each are mere details.

A litmus test?

There may be a rift in the Republican Party over who will be the next candidate to represent the party in the 10th Congressional District race.

A conservative group apparently doesn't like the choices the Republican Party is considering for the seat. "We were especially concerned that several Republican Party leaders have apparently created a litmus test for the Republican nomination for John Porter's seat—that the nominee had to be a woman and has to have an abortion rights agenda," said Paul Caprio, who represents the group. "We reject that litmus test that has been placed on the District 10th race by party leaders."

Pappas: Has long time nemesis in sights for county board race

The group said it is looking for a candidate who "patterns their political positions after the model president of this century, Ronald Reagan." It noted the "retirement of Congressman Porter offers the people of the 10th District of Illinois an opportunity to choose a pro-growth, pro-family congressman."

The group announced its own "aggressive recruitment efforts" to offer the district a clear, visible choice in both the March Republican primary and November general election.

"We believe there are going to be several serious candidates coming forward in the next 10 days," Caprio said.

Save the VA

Students at local schools may be asked to do a special assignment this Veterans Day: Saving the VA Medical Center at North Chicago. Lake County Board member Judy Martini (R-Antioch) said veterans are looking for a spokesperson to contact the schools urging students to write letters to President Clinton on why they feel the VA hospital should remain open and services should not be cut.

Martini said the idea was the brainchild of Phil Mazur, a Libertyville veteran who has spearheaded efforts to stop the closing of the North Chicago VA. She said Mazur is trying to get a spokesperson to contact the schools on behalf of the veterans cause, perhaps someone like County Coroner Barbara Richardson or Lt. Gov. Corrine Wood. Students would be asked to write the letters for Veterans Day.

Gordy on top

Lake County Township Officials have once again named Gordy Klesgen, Grant Township supervisor, as the president.

Officers include: Charles Fitzgerald, supervisor of Shields Township; Rosemary Mers, trustee in Wauconda Township; Sue Hanson, treasurer, supervisor of Lake Villa Township.

Board of directors include: Heather Kufalk-Marotta, assessor of Antioch Township; William Donahue, trustee at Avon Township; Phillip Leable, clerk at Benton Township; Frederich Foersterling, assessor at Cuba Township; Barbara J. Coppel; William Donnan, clerk of Ela Township; Pete Tekampe, supervisor of Fremont Township.

Also, Faith Sage, clerk of Libertyville Township; Frank Kakeer, clerk of Newport Township; Frank Wolowic, highway commissioner, Vernon Township; Carol Stried, assessor at Warren Township; Pat Morris, assessor, Waukegan Township; Lindra Anderson, trustee, West Deerfield Township and Truman Hudson, supervisor, Zion Township.

Couch potatoes? Not all of us

While researchers keep producing studies that suggest we Americans are becoming softer, more sedentary and physically unfit, along comes the annual Chicago Marathon and 29,000 people sign up to run 26.2 masochistic miles.

Three years ago that October event attracted only 10,000 willing sufferers.

Of the 29,000, some 200 were from Lake County, about 140 men and 60 women—everyday folks like you and me, only with more motivation.

This year's race was won by Khalid Khannouchi of Morocco in world-record time: 2 hours, 5 minutes and 42 seconds. Running comes easy for Khalid, spelling his name is the hard part.

Last among the finishers, in 24,594th place, was 52-year-old Kristie Kral of Putnam Valley, N.Y. It took the pride of Putnam Valley seven hours and 27 minutes to complete the course, but she made it (just before dark, after most people had gone home).

The leading Lake County runners were 25-year-old Dzmitry Sivov of Libertyville, 22nd among the men in two hours and 22 minutes, and 27-year-old Amy Weber of Highland Park in three hours and 19 minutes.

Others from Lake County who ran the route in less than three hours, and their ages, were: John Kiser, 38, of Grayslake; Raymond Ross, 38, of Waukegan; Jeff Beaumont, 26, of Deerfield; Jason Doland, 29, of Round Lake; Ray Zabat, 38, of Wadsworth; Bill Zeck, 42, of Wildwood; David Gale, 32, of Wauconda; Anthony Vukonics, 33, of Vernon Hills; Andrej Tomic, 43, of Gurnee; Marc Swerdlo, 35, of Highland Park; Kenneth Osmun, 31, of Round Lake Beach; and Christopher Moore, 50, and David Young, 23, both of Libertyville.

Osmun was a star distance runner in college and has moved up to marathons. He told me after last year's Chicago race, "With me (the suffering) is typically in the legs, the quadriceps start hurting. You almost get to the point where your legs are numb, like you're running on empty. But running keeps you in shape and feeling good about yourself."

I had a taste of distance running in high school. My friends on the cross-country team coaxed me into coming out for the grueling sport. The races were only about three miles long but after my first meet I had my fill. Yet, I couldn't quit on my friends so I endured the whole season.

I'll say this for cross-country in autumn: It gave us great endurance for winter basketball.

Americans no longer excel in marathon running as they did when it was an amateur sport for gold medals and glory. Today, professionals from foreign lands fly across oceans to get here and garner the generous prize money.

In Chicago, five of the first 10 finishers were Kenyans. Other countries with runners in contention were Brazil, France, Germany, Poland, Australia and Mexico.

In his book, "Running and Being," the late Dr. George Sheehan, a runners' guru, wrote: "Running keeps me at a physical peak and sharpens my senses."

And it is a challenging individual pursuit. As Sheehan also wrote, "Nothing creative, great or small, has been done by committee."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The road to political agendas

Recently, Grayslake Mayor Pat Carey, Representative Sydney Mathias, and Vernon Hills Mayor Roger Byrne have formed a so-called transportation group, Protect Quality of Life through Better Transportation. Two thoughts immediately spring to mind regarding this topic. 1. The most vocal of the vocal Route 53 supporters in the county are attempting to claim that this group is not a pro-53 entity. Hah. At least the citizens of the county (those that realize what a disaster 53 would be) that oppose 53 have the guts and decency to say so openly, unlike these elected officials. These elected officials are simply doing what the Lake County Transportation Improvement Project (by virtue of the politics involved) cannot—overly promote Route 53.

2. Attention Route 53 promoters and public-at-large. For years the citizens of the county (the ones with the county's best interests at heart) have indeed promoted a take-action approach regarding transportation improvements. Improvements that will move traffic around the county without destroying the county in the process. We do not, repeat, do not, endorse a "do-nothing" approach.

The formation of this group appears to be simply a tactical maneuver, and yet another example of politicians looking out for themselves and their own hidden agendas instead of listening to the citizens they were hired to represent.

power bosses." Beyond that, I have the feeling that with Bradley, "what you see is what you get." His "body language" tells me that he is sincere. And he does have that "down home" character about him.

To me, there is one major issue that faces the country. The candidates will talk about education, and crime, and social security, national security, the economy, and much more. But I believe that what anyone who is aspiring to show leadership of this great country must be addressing is what we must do to get rid of the "politics of hate" that seems to be spreading the country.

That may be another reason why I support Bill Bradley. He has expressed his "vision of America" where one part of society is not tearing at another part of it. To say that politics does not play a role in this division, or exclusion, is a "cop-out."

People are just sick and tired that important policy decisions are discussed and decided, not based on what is good for a majority of Americans, but on what is good for this or that political party of a certain political person. People are sick and tired that these political debates are turning into "mud wrestling" to the "nth degree," where nothing can be debated on its merits.

What I am saying is that "politics of hate" that is spewing in Washington is contributing to deep divisions among classes in the country, whether its religious, ethnic, racial, social, economic, status, or whatever. We have seen that some of the patterns of school violence amongst the youth may be attributed to "class difference." That must stop. Leadership "at the top" can be vital.

Now that I have brought out my leanings for Bill Bradley, I must say that some Republicans have asked who I like on "their side." Let's face it, Texas Governor George W. Bush is the "odds-on favorite," and with at least $100 million that will be at his disposal, it looks like "it's no contest."

Still, it was asked who do I like, and for many of the same reasons that I like Bill Bradley as the Democrat nominee, I like Arizona U.S. Senator John McCain as the Republican nominee. McCain has been fiercely independent and vocal on where he stands on issues, I like him as a leader, I like his forcefulness and sincerity.

There you have it. Will money and the political insiders pick our president next year? If so, it will be Gore vs. Bush. If not, it very well could be McCain vs. Bradley. There are those who say that Bradley and McCain may emerge as the vice-presidential candidates. I still like them to emerge at the "top rung" of the ladder, and think that it would be the best for the country.

Words of Wisdom XXIII - Thoughts on friendship

The only way to have a friend is to be one. - Ralph Waldo Emerson I consider myself very lucky to have made many lasting friendships. My first true friend and I were very close for nearly 18 years. We played, worked and hunted together.

When he died at the age of 18, I felt a great sense of loss. No, it wasn't a tragedy. Buster, a collie shepherd cross, was 126 in dog years.

He taught me a lot about friendship. He was always glad to see me even if I interrupted a nap or a meal. He was always faithful and his friendship never changed.

My second true friend I met in 3rd grade. We traveled a lot of miles together. He grew into a solid citizen, father and provider. We had our disagreements through the years, but he's a friend I can count on today.

My best friend is the young lady I married nearly 30 years ago. She's a gem, and there's no better combination I can imagine in life than a friend and sweetheart.

There are too many others to name. Business partners, co-workers, family and church friends. I am blessed.

Here are some thoughts about friendship.

My thoughts

- Friendships aren't purchased, agreed to or decided upon. The best, long-lasting friendships evolve. They change, grow and mature to keep pace with the friends.
- Friendships have a price. The cost of true friendship is trust, commitment and time.
- Don't forget your old friends when you make new friends.
- The friendships you cultivate determine the harvest you'll reap in joy, peace and success.
- To have reliable friends, be a reliable friend.

Thoughts of others

- Hold a true friend with both your hands. - Nigerian proverb
- A friend is a gift you give yourself. - Robert Louis Stevenson
- I can't make people like me, but if I wasn't me, I would like me. - Third grader
- You can make more friends in two months by becoming interested in other people than you can in two years by trying to get other people interested in you. - Dale Carnegie
- Real friends are those who, when you've made a fool of yourself, don't feel you've done a permanent job. - unknown
- A Washington lady explained how to be as successful as hostess: When your guests arrive say, "At last!" And when they leave, "So soon!"
- To a friend's house the road is never long. - Dutch proverb
- A man dies as often as he loses his friends. - Francis Bacon
- Chance makes our parents, but choice makes our friends. - Jacques Delille
- He is a good friend who speaks well of me behind my back. - unknown
- If I knew you and you knew me, If both of us could clearly see, And with an inner sight divine, The meaning of your heart and mine.
- I'm sure that we would differ less, And clasp our hands in friendship, Our thoughts would pleasantly agree, If I knew you and you knew me.

Women's Western impact outlined during tourism bureau celebration

Lake County's burgeoning tourism industry will get a one-time boost next year with the playing of the 55th annual Women's Western Open in July at the posh Merit Club located on Route 21 between Gurnee and Libertyville.

Rob Cary, representing the U.S. Golf Assn. and a spearhead in the planning process for the prestigious golf event, described the economic impact on Lake County at the 15th anniversary of the Lake County Convention and Visitors Bureau meeting at Lake County Museum, Wauconda.

With 150 of the top women golfers in the world competing, Cary said the tourney will have a $3.5 million impact on the local economy with an anticipated attendance of 130,000 spectators.

That will translate into 4,900 room nights for county hotels. World-wide media attention will be focused on the Women's Western for nearly a week.

Visitors will be directed to park at Lakehurst Shopping Center where a network of buses will shuttle golf fans to the course. Preparations started three years ago for the top women's links event of 2000.

An "army" of 1,500 volunteers will be recruited for traffic control, escorting, marshaling and scoring, according to Cary.

Cary was among a group of speakers including Lt. Gov. Corinne Wood who heralded a new major industry in Lake County, which is supported and promoted by the Bureau, a private organization backed by dues of tourist-oriented businesses plus county and state grants.

Gail Svendsen, president and CEO, reported that the Bureau is working on a sports marketing survey and establishing a tourist information center. Bureau members and staff personnel are involved in the county's millennium project and providing Lake County tourism businesses with an Internet presence.

State Sen. Terry Link (D-Vernon Hills) said tourism is a bi-partisan effort. He praised Wood for keeping Lake County in the foreground in the Springfield political arena.

County Board Rep. Bob Buhai (D-Highland Park) reminded Bureau members and friends attending the reception at the Museum, one of the county's foremost attractions, that the Lake County Forest Preserve District was just recognized as the nation's top forest preserve district.

Cathy Ritter, deputy director of the Illinois Dept. of Commerce and Community Affairs with responsibility for the Illinois Bureau of Tourism, was introduced and spoke briefly. She became a county resident recently.

CLC keys work-free training adopts $32 million tax levy

College of Lake County has launched a welfare-to-work program that teaches students workplace skills.

Central to the program is a short-term, hands-on office skills training program to help welfare recipients find employment and become self-sufficient. The program emphasizes job training, support services and job placement and retention.

The program, which is based at the Lakeshore campus in Waukegan, was started in spring 1999 with an $8,900 start-up grant from the CLC Foundation. Students in the program learn general office, customer service, record keeping, word-processing and Power Point presentation skills, and they start and complete the program at their own pace. So far the program has served about 45 students.

College officials announced an estimated property tax levy for 1999 and scheduled a public hearing on the levy for 6:45 p.m. on Nov. 16 at CLC's Grayslake Campus. The estimated aggregate levy, which primarily provides for the education and operation and maintenance funds, will increase by 5.42 percent over the previous year. The proposed total levy for 1999 is estimated at $32.7 million, which represents a 4.69 percent increase over last year's levy of $31.2 million.

CLC has approved resolutions that authorized restructuring payment of bonds sold in 1991 and the issuance of $2.8 million in limited tax funding bonds to cover the college's costs for technology acquisitions and early retirement incentives.

CLC President Gretchen Naff recognized Lakeshore advisory committee members attending the meeting, which was held at the Lakeshore Campus. It is the final event in the College's 30th anniversary celebration. She also welcomed Yi-Qing Liu, Ph.D., a professor of English at Peking University in Beijing, China, who is serving as a Fulbright Scholar-in-Residence at CLC and William Rainey Harper College for the fall 1999 semester.

Trustees accepted three grants totaling $291,272. These consist of a $177,272 grant from Illinois Department of Transportation's safe Communities Program to coordinate the college's Lake County "Stayin' Alive" traffic safety task force; a $104,000 grant from the Illinois Board of Higher Education to administer classes offered through the north Suburban High Education consortium; and a $10,000 grant from the Lake County Education-to-Careers partnership to conduct workplace skills assessments for students.

In other business, the board adopted a resolution to submit three Life safety Projects to the Illinois Community College Board for $600,000 to improve college facilities at the Grayslake campus.

In purchasing, the board approved several contracts. Among them are a contract with Pontarelli Construction Co. Inc. of Barrington for $107,050 for the installation of municipal sewer and water for CLC's Southlake Educational Center in Vernon Hills and a contract with PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP and the Isadore Group for a maximum amount not to exceed $900,000 for consulting services for the implementation of a new student information system.

In personnel matters, the board appointed Melanie Scherer, of Lake Villa, as director of business services. She comes to CLC after serving as purchasing manager for the Lake County Forest Preserve District for 15 years. She holds a bachelor's degree in business from DePaul University.

Village Green sales near 80% as construction advances

The first phase of Lincolnshire's newest luxury condominium complex is proceeding toward a late spring completion with sales near 80 percent, reports Helen Weiss, principal of Weiss Development Corp., the developer of Village Green Condominiums.

"Masonry has reached the second level on the first of three buildings—a two-and three-story L-shaped building—and barring any weather disasters we expect to delivering our first completed units by May," said Weiss.

Simultaneously, installation of a lushly landscaped boulevard to the complex known as the Village Green is scheduled to get under way shortly and to be completed before the end of the year.

The pioneers condominium developer has logged 24 sales, with seven homes still available for purchase in Phase I.

"Buyers still have a selection of five floor plans among the seven homes still available in the Phase I," Weiss said. All are two bedroom residences, some of which include dens, sun rooms, family rooms and fireplaces. They range in size from 1,734 to 2,190 sq.-ft., base-price from the mid $200,000 range to the mid $300,000. All include two heated indoor parking spaces in the purchase price.

Early purchasers are saving significant amounts by selecting a number of "most-asked-for" enhancements prior to construction, points out Weiss.

"This ranges from installing a gas hook-up for barbecue grill on the terrace to installing under-cabinet or recessed lighting. Of course all these options are available any time, but they are significantly less expensive if they are scheduled before rather than after construction," she explained. That's why so many homes are being sold ahead of construction and actual availability.

In total, Village Green Condominiums in Lincolnshire emerging downtown district will provide 108 luxury two- and three-bedroom residences in three mid-rise buildings. The gated community is situated just south of Old Half Day Road on an 8.33-acre parcel.

The development plan provides for large open spaces abutting a newly created lake that results in spectacular view for many unit owners, and an informal recreational amenity with scenic bicycle and pedestrian links to the community's trail system for all owners.

Other recreational amenities will include an outdoor swimming pool with a sun deck and an exercise facility.

An extensive and colorful landscaping plan that includes a European-style central courtyard beyond the gated entry enhances the appeal of Village Green Condominiums.

The frontage area along Olde Half Day Road also will be heavily landscaped. The buildings will be surrounded by gardens and ornamental trees and shrubs will be added near the buildings and entrances to enhance their appearance.

The Village Green sales/display center is in downtown Lincolnshire in the Spectrum Office Centre, 175 Olde Half Day Road, one block north of Route 22 and one block east of Milwaukee Ave. For more information call 821-8080.

Grand Premier Financial reports gains in net income, outstanding loans

Grand Premier Financial Inc. announced that net income for the third quarter, was $4,251,000 or $.18 per diluted share. Year-to-date core earnings (exclusive of net after tax securities gains in 1999 and 1998, and gains on sale of four rural offices in 1999) totaled $12,961,000 in 1999 versus $11,789,000 earned in the first nine months of 1998. Based on average diluted shares outstanding, per share core earnings are $.56 in 1999 as compared to $.51 in 1998.

Grand Premier continued its strategic pursuit of new customers and expanding existing customer relationships during the third quarter. Outstanding loans aggregated $1.09 billion on September 30, and increase of $134 million year-to-date. Deposits grew by slightly over $62 million from June 30th to September 30th. Total deposits at quarter end were $1.34 billion versus $1.36 billion at year-end 1998 despite a drop of $85.1 million deposits in conjunction with sale of four of the Company's office in the first quarter 1999.

In September Grand Premier announced that it has signed a definitive agreement for merging the company into Old Kent Financial Corporation. Under the terms of the merger, Grand Premier shareholders would receive .4231 shares of Old Kent common stock in exchange for each share of Grand Premier. Detailed information will be filed with appropriate regulatory authorities over the next several months and, subject to their approval, will be mailed to shareholders for their consideration in the first quarter, 2000. It is currently anticipated the merger, if approved by shareholders, will be consummated early in the second quarter, 2000.

Richard L. Geach, President and CEO of Grand Premier commented "we are excited about the potential opportunities this merger brings our shareholders, customers and staff. During the interim, we are committed to maintaining the high level of service we've developed over the past several years."

IRS announces compliance program

The IRS Illinois District is piloting a small business/self-employed taxpayer compliance project that focuses on assisting taxpayers who are willing to come into compliance, but fail to do so out of fear or lack of understanding.

This program combines mandatory taxpayer education along with possible penalty abatements, liberal installment agreements, and other assistance for first time newly delinquent business and self-employed taxpayers.

To qualify for the program, the business must have started on or after January 1, 1997, and the owners have never assessed a prior employment tax (trust fund) penalty, and/or not owe liabilities from a prior business venture. If the business owner qualifies he or she will be required to attend a mandatory tax workshop that will help them meet and understand their tax obligations. Depending on his or her tax situation, they may be offered several possible solutions. These could include a streamline installment agreement, an appointment with an Offer in Compromise specialist when appropriate or another type of resolution based on his or her financial statement.

The business may receive abatement/non-assertion of all penalties, including delinquency penalty, deposit penalty, estimated tax penalty and failure to pay penalty.

The next qualifying business workshop will be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Dec. 9, at Rock Valley College in Rockford. The U.S. Department of Labor, and representatives from the Illinois Department of Revenue and Unemployment Security will also make presentations. The $30 fee includes lunch.

For more information, contact Pat Scallon of the Internal Revenue Service at (815)987-4286.

Free Drug Testing

According to the U.S. Department of Health & Human Services, recent studies show drug abuse doubles employers' cost in medical and worker's compensation claims, and alcoholism causes 500 million lost workdays each year. To help employers combat drug abuse in the workplace, the Office of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse, a division of the Illinois Department of Human Services, has made funding available through the Illinois Chamber to specifically support the institution and the expansion of drug testing by small and medium-sized businesses. These funds will pay approved drug testing providers for the drug tests requested by eligible businesses. To find out if your company is eligible for free drug testing, call your Local Chamber of Commerce to see if they are participating in the Drug-Free Illinois Workplace Program or call for information on the Illinois Chamber's Drug-Free Illinois Workplace Program at (217) 522-5512, 234. Gibbon Printing celebrates 10th year

Mundelein residents Robert and Dorothee Olech are celebrating Gibbon Printing's 10-year anniversary. The couple acquired all manufacturing and sales operations from a foreign company in 1989 to focus on the production of high-quality, offset printing inks. They produce a full range of offset sheet fed inks, Pantone color matching services and technical support throughout metropolitan Chicago and the Midwest.

Gibbon offers a toll free number for technical support for on-press support with situations such as process control, dampening system problems or testing and evaluation procedures.

Illinois CPA Society to host its annual tax conference

For 45 years, the Illinois CPA Society/Foundation Tax Conference has provided tax practitioners with the most comprehensive coverage of current tax developments and issues. In keeping with this tradition, the association's 1999 Tax Conference will feature local, state and national tax experts to discuss the latest changes affecting CPAs and financial advisors and their clients in individual, partnership and corporation taxation. The conference will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, November 9-10, at the Westin Hotel Michigan Ave. in Chicago (909 N. Michigan Ave., 312/943-7200), and the registration fee is $420 for Illinois CPA Society members and $470 for non-members.

The two-day 1999 Tax Conference will provide attendees with insight into such areas as how to prepare for electronic tax administration and technology, state tax issues related to the Internet and E-Commerce, the Internet Tax Freedom Act, and the changing expectations taxpayers have in regard to the IRS.

For more information on this conference or to register, please contact the Illinois CPA Society at (312) 993-0393 or (800) 993-0393 (within Illinois) or fax to (312) 993-9432.

IRS seeks volunteers to provide free tax assistance

The IRS is looking for volunteers—individuals and organizations to help prepare tax returns free of charge under the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance Program (VITA) during the 2000 filing season. This program helps people who are unable to prepare their own simple tax returns or cannot pay for professional tax assistance. New volunteers are trained by IRS tax specialists. They should have time available in January to take a three to five day training course on individual tax laws. Good computer skills are helpful and organizations should be willing to participate in the VITA "e-file." Day and weekend classes can be arranged. After completing the class, volunteers are asked to spend at least two hours a week preparing returns for local sponsoring VITA organization.

If you have any questions regarding VITA, please call Beverly Lewis, at (312) 886-4609, or Sonya Jacobs at (217) 527-6266.

Governor's Small Business Awards Program

Governor George H. Ryan announced the creation of the Governor's Small Business Awards Program, which is being established to celebrate the vital role that small businesses play in maintaining and strengthening the Illinois economy. The program, administered by the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs is designed to complement the U.S. Small Business Administration's (SBA) award program. Through an agreement with the SBA, all Illinois award winners will be considered for the SBA's national awards. Categories include: Small Business Person of the Year, Minority Small Business Advocate of the Year, Women in Business Advocate of the Year, Young Entrepreneur of the Year, and Entrepreneurial Success Award. Winners will be recognized in January 2000 at an event to be held during the Governor's Small Business 2000 Summit. Application deadline is November 12. For award application and registration information, contact the DCCA Small Business Division at 217-524-5856. (Karen Korsgard-Springfield).

Chicago Botanic Garden Comes Alive with Autumn Colors

Horticulturists offer helpful tips for fall planting

As the temperatures descend in October and November, the intense colors of red, orange, burgundy, yellow and purple paint the Chicago Botanic Garden's autumn landscape. The fall offers a wonderfully crisp time of the year to experience the Garden's outstanding collection of blooming mums, asters, pansies, goldenrod and of course, hundreds of deciduous trees with brightly-colored leaves.

Some of the garden's most spectacular sights in autumn include the new Buehler Enabling Garden bursting with lush green cabbages, purple asters and richly-colored garnet Love-Lies-Bleeding (Amaranthus caudatus); the Suzanne Dixon Prairie blooming with bright yellow sawtooth sunflowers, stiff goldenrod, big blue stem grasses and purple false-foxgloves, the Regenstein Fruit & Vegetable Garden overflowing with winter squash, golden orange pumpkins, rosy apples and purple kale; and the Circle Garden brimming with "Celeste" and "Monte Cassino" asters in deep purple and pink, purple verbena and glowing orange and yellow lantana.

During the cool days of autumn, the Garden's horticulturists are hard at work planting fall flower displays, aerating and fertilizing turf, harvesting the final crop of fruits and vegetables and preparing the Garden's 385 acres for the colder winter months to come.

"The Chicago Botanic Garden offers a colorful fall season with great tree colors, fall annual and perennial displays, and a bountiful harvest of fruit and vegetables," said Tim Johnson, Director of Horticulture for the Chicago Botanic Garden. "Be sure to visit the Garden in October and early November to experience the best of our fall seasonal displays."

To get the most of out of the fall gardening season, the Chicago Botanic Garden suggests a few tips for the months of October and November.

The Chicago Botanic Garden is open every day of the week from 8 a.m. to sunset. Admission is free. Parking for non-members is $7. A special parking rate of $5 for senior citizens is available on Tuesdays. For general information about the Garden, call 835-5440.

Grayslake interior designer loves her job

It takes a sharp eye to know just what a room needs to come to life. Barbara Bertler, owner of Window & Wall Concepts in Grayslake, has that skill and many others.

After earning a degree in design from the University of Wisconsin in 1982, she worked for a drapery and blind manufacturer in California, then moved back to her home town, Chicago, to become a designer for Bloomingdale's.

But working for someone else was not her calling. In 1989, Bertler opened Window & Wall Concepts on Route 83 in Grayslake.

"I basically felt I had the know how and confidence to start my own business," she said.

At the time, her store was only 500 square feet and she worked alone. Today the business, that has moved to 827 E. Center Street, is 2,000-square-feet and has grown to maintain one part-time and two full-time employees.

Enter Bertler's showroom and you feel right at home. On display are the latest styles in window and wall treatments. We excel in custom draperies. Top treatments, blinds, wall coverings, slip covers, reupholstery, and coordinating room accessories.

Proper window treatments coordinated with wall coverings can become the most effective elements in a room's decor, said Bertler. She regularly works with customers who want to give a new look to an existing room, as well as with new homeowners who are starting from scratch.

"We have a loyal clientele in part due to our service," said Bertler. "Instead of just selling a product, we treat people as family."

Most of the clientele is within 20 minutes of our Grayslake showroom, however, projects do take us to Chicago, as well as the North and South suburbs. Many homes in Grayslake's new subdivisions reflect her decorating skills.

Bertler has also designed the interiors of a variety of local businesses, including Gilardi's Restaurant in Half Day, the Grayslake Chamber of Commerce, the Northside Community Bank in Gurnee, and several Burger Kings in Lake County.

This past February, the store celebrated its 10th anniversary. Now Bertler is making plans for the next decade. She is looking into the possibility of manufacturing draperies to offer customers a quicker turn-around and is considering moving her business into a house to showcase her products in a comfortable home environment.

She loves her job.

"I enjoy meeting new people and being able to create a warm personalized environment for them to live-in," Bertler said.

HOW TO PLAY

Select a winner from each of the week's games, listed below. Select in descending order of your CONFIDENCE in your choices. Win points at left for each correct selection toward possible total of 136 points. See complete rules below. You must be at least 8 (eight) years old to enter. To enter, clip along dotted line, then place game entry in POWER POINTS container at co-sponsor's retail outlet(s). Entrants must list name, address and phone number below.

LIMIT: You may enter only once weekly.

DEADLINE: NOON FRIDAY

TIEBREAKER 1 ☐ Total points scored (both teams) in BEARS game.
TIEBREAKER 2 ☐ Total offensive yards (both teams) in this game.

THIS WEEK'S GAMES

Baltimore at Jacksonville	Minnesota at Chicago
Carolina at St. Louis	San Diego at Oakland
Cleveland at Pittsburgh	San Francisco at New Orleans
Detroit at Arizona	Tennessee at Cincinnati
Green Bay at Dallas	Washington at Philadelphia
Indianapolis at NY Giants	Denver at Seattle
Kansas City at Tampa Bay	Illinois at Ohio State
Miami at Buffalo	Michigan St. at Northwestern

POWER POINTS OFFICIAL RULES

- Object of the game is to amass as many of the 136 points as you can. Simply review the week's schedule of games, listed on entry form, and decide which game you are SUREST of picking a winner in. Write the name of your projected winner on the 16-point line. If that team wins its game that week, you win 16 points. Write the name of your second-surest winner on the 15-point line, and so on down to the 1-point line, which game you figure to be a toss-up. Next, fill in Tiebreaker 1, the total points scored by both teams in the week's designated game. If this step fails to produce a winner, the judges will apply Tiebreaker 2, total offensive yardage from scrimmage in this game. If a winner still doesn't emerge, a drawing will be held among those contestants still tied. Decisions of the judges are final. The weekly statewide winner of the contest will receive $1,000.
- Any entry form that does not contain a legible name, address, etc., will be disqualified.
- Entries that fail to forecast a winner from each and every game will be disqualified, as will entries that fail to distinguish between the Jets and Giants of New York and other similar teams.
- No points are awarded on tie games or in case any game is not played for any reason during its scheduled week.
- Entering POWER POINTS constitutes permission by contestant for his or her name and photograph to be used for news and reasonable promotional purposes at no charge.
- Employees of this newspaper and their immediate families are ineligible to participate.
- Any inquiry about or protest of weekly results must be made by noon on the Friday following the announcement of winners.
- No purchase necessary. Facsimile game entry forms will be accepted. Enter contest by dropping entry form into POWER POINTS container at participating co-sponsors.
- Weekly deadline for entry will be noon. Fridays except when noted otherwise on weekly entry form.
- Neither this newspaper nor any co-sponsor will be responsible for illegible entry forms or those lost, stolen or damaged in any way.
- Limit one entry per person per week. Each entry must represent the original work of one entrant; "group" entries, "systems" or other attempts to enter multiple entries will be disqualified. Filling out extra forms and putting your friends' and relatives' names on them violates this rule. Any such entries are destroyed prior to grading.
- Contestants must have reached the age of eight (8) years by the Sunday of any week's play.

State comptroller looking into questionable funeral practices

Hynes brings latest effort to improve practices to county

By PEG GRADY
Correspondent

In unprecedented action, State of Illinois Comptroller Daniel Hynes has begun a year-long study on alleged abuses in the funeral and cemetery industries.

The effort brought Hynes to Lake County on Oct. 26th for the last in a series of state-wide public meetings in the Vernon Township Hall.

Hynes said he is trying to protect consumers from unscrupulous funeral homes and cemeteries. He is working closely with the Illinois Funeral Director's Association and AARP—a mong others—to overhaul the state's Cemetery Care Act.

The parties, along with State Senators Terry Link and William Peterson, hope to come up with proposals for the General Assembly for next spring's legislative session. Although he and his staff are quick to point out that 98 percent of all licensed funeral homes and cemeteries are in compliance with state laws, there are those few that make prospective clients cling tightly to their wallets.

Hynes and company received an earful of complaints, ranging from poor perpetual care of gravesites to remains interred in wrong gravesites.

Hynes announced that he opened a toll-free hotline (1-877-203-3401) over Memorial Day this year to get some feedback from Illinois residents who required the services of cemeteries and funeral homes.

Hynes' Deputy Press Secretary, Elizabeth Knepper, said making that phone line available to the public was like "opening Pandora's box." They were sure that nobody was going to call and say how great it was to plan a funeral, but they also did not expect to hear so many complaints and negative comments. Hynes' office received approximately 200 calls and Hynes and his staff visited the areas that had the greatest call concentration. He conducted six hearings starting in Galesburg and ending in Vernon Township.

Because they were public hearings, anybody who wanted to speak could do so if they signed in at the door. Speakers discussed such challenges as: inaccessibility of some cemeteries. Some speakers said they had difficulty getting in to visit their loved ones. When they did get in, some found that the plots they were looking to visit were unkempt and disorderly. Some even had evidence of vandalism to headstones or monuments.

There were also many complaints of fraud from people who said they paid for perpetual care and were obviously not receiving it.

And worse was the story from Charles J. Dancik, Jr., who came to two of the hearings because his wife's remains and his mother's body, both at Clarendon Hills Cemetery, were each put into the wrong grave. It has been two-and-a-half years and the problem still is not resolved, he said. The director of the cemetery allegedly told Dancik that they always have about 11 lawsuits pending, what's one more? He is hoping to get some closure to the problem with Hynes' help.

Hynes and his staff are looking primarily to help out the cemeteries that have been abandoned or who have no one to care for them anymore. These are usually privately owned, which gives the comptroller's office jurisdiction over those facilities. They are concerned for denominational homes and cemeteries as well, but that is outside the scope of Hynes' office.

Such is the case with one cemetery in Northbrook. The facility's treasurer showed up at the hearing to ask if the state could take over the reins. There is nobody who wants to do the work anymore and everybody who is presently running the operation is working almost for free. There are approximately 10 burials per year there, but they still want to honor the people who already resting there, including some veterans. He said

Deerfield had a cemetery in the same condition and that village now maintains it.

Jack Killian, from the Illinois Funeral Director's Association, stepped in to defend the group. The Executive Director of the Monument Builder's Association was also on hand. Each said their groups were in compliance with all state laws and are looking for ways to help get their business more regulated.

The meeting spilled over by 30 minutes, but everyone who wanted to speak was heard. Comptroller Hynes told those present that this was an ambitious undertaking and it turned out to be bigger than they could have anticipated. He hopes to give attention to issues that have gone unattended for so long. He did not want to give anyone false hopes about solving every problem, but he did want to give them a forum in which to address them.

County unlikely to change closing times for taverns

By JOHN ROSZKOWSKI
Regional Editor

The Lake County Board is unlikely to revisit bar closing times anytime soon, but the board is willing to meet with the tavern owners to discuss any issues they might have, a county official says.

Suzi Schmidt, vice chairman of the County Board and the liquor commission, said the board voted unanimously earlier this year in favor of closing bars an hour earlier, and she does not expect the board will change its mind on that particular issue.

Bars used to close at 2 a.m. on weekdays and 3 a.m. on Friday and Saturday nights. Starting July 1, bars were forced to close at 1 a.m. on weekdays and 2 a.m. on weekends.

Many tavern owners in unincorporated areas claim the earlier closing time has hurt their business, as many of their patrons are now traveling to villages which stay open later.

Schmidt said the board "felt we needed to pull back the hours" because of the problems they were having in some of the unincorporated areas, such as excessive noise late at night and drinking and driving.

Schmidt acknowledged that bars in some of the villages stay open later than the unincorporated areas, and she would like to see those villages bring their hours in line with the county's.

On the issue of special use permits for outdoor events, Schmidt said the county tried to strike a compromise by allowing bars to have a certain number of events without intruding too much on the privacy of neighboring property owners.

Schmidt said county officials are willing to meet with tavern owners and discuss any issues they want to raise.

OWNERS: Seek compromise

bar hopping and reduce drinking and driving. He believes it has done just the opposite.

"What you're doing is you're taking (people) who live and work in Gurnee and now they're going to Fox Lake and other places where the bars are open later and then driving back to Gurnee. Is that good?" he asked.

Between 50 and 60 tavern owners from throughout the county attended the Lake County Tavern Owners Association monthly meeting in October. They discussed the bar closing hours and other new county regulations which they say are hurting bars in unincorporated areas of the county.

At the meeting, Don Tiffany, president of the Lake County Tavern Owners Association, urged members of the group to write letters and call their board representatives to address some of these issues.

"Now they're starting to listen, but we have to get a little bit stronger," said Tiffany.

Tiffany said largely because of the change in hours and other new regulations, five or six bars in the county have been forced to shut down this year. He predicts that number will increase next year unless something is done.

"This hasn't solved any problems, and it has created problems for us," said Tiffany.

Bob Selle is sales manager for Doyle Distributing, an area beer distributorship, and a member of the Tavern Owners Association. He is also a Grant Township trustee.

Selle said the new rules on bars in the unincorporated areas are placing them at a competitive disadvantage with bars in the incorporated areas.

"The unincorporated areas are losing money to the incorporated areas. People are going somewhere," he said.

Selle said there are between 15 to 18 communities in the county that have later hours. As a result of the change in bar hours in the unincorporated areas, many people are driving to bars in the villages which stay open longer, such as Lake Villa, Fox Lake and Antioch.

The county hoped when it passed the ordinance to lower the bar hours that other villages would follow suit, but that hasn't happened.

Selle sees the new bar hours and other new regulations on bars in the unincorporated areas as a "one-size fits all" mentality—kind of like the proposed leaf burning ban.

"It's kind of like the leaf burning ban. It upsets me. They're trying to make the same rules for everybody. They seem to forget about northwest Illinois being a unique area, especially for recreation," he said.

Donna Stewart, owner of Bootleggers on Grass Lake Road in Antioch, said the earlier closing time has "very much affected my business." During the extra hour the bar was open, Stewart said she would normally get between 10 to 15 customers on weekdays and 15 to 20 on weekends. Now, those customers are going elsewhere.

The earlier closing time isn't the only issue which upsets bar owners. In June, the county liquor commission placed a limit on the number of special events permits liquor establishments could have for outdoor events. Previously, bars could have an unlimited number of outdoor events, such as musical entertainment, but now the number of events is limited to five.

Stewart said she typically doesn't have many outdoor events but she has talked to many other bar owners who have been hurt by the change. She also claims certain bars are getting preferential treatment in the issuance of special use permits.

"I know for a fact that some of the bars get more permits (than five). Some of the bars have no permits at all. If they're going to have laws, then they have to enforce the laws. If you're not going to enforce it for all the bars, then don't enforce it for anyone. It's just unfair," she said.

Bar owners are also fearful of new regulations in the county's Unified Development Ordinance. One of those regulations includes a proposed noise ordinance that would limit the noise from outdoor events to 60 decibels.

Selle said the tavern owners association has been able to reach concessions with the county on some issues. For example, he said the county agreed taverns could continue to hold outdoor volleyball games without applying for special use permits. Regarding the noise ordinance, he said the tavern owners association was able to get a concession that the decibel meter reading had to be taken from the point of the complaint, and not on the bar property.

Selle is hopeful the bar owners and County Board can reach a compromise on other issues, such as the bar hours. He believes the bar hours should be consistent throughout the county, with both the villages and unincorporated areas having the same closing times. One possible compromise would be to have a 1:30 closing time on weekdays, and 2:30 on weekends. Another possibility would be to allow for later hours during the summer months when the county gets most of its tourism business, he said.

Selle proposed the formation of a committee to look at the changes and reach a consensus. He said the committee would be made up of tavern owners association representatives, law enforcement officials, neighborhood association representatives, liquor and beer distributors and county officials.

"I think communication is the way to go. Communication between the tavern owners and the County Board," he said.

LaBELLE: Chairman mulls options

ward running again because of what the board has been able to accomplish over the last year. What he's still weighing is what is best long term professionally for himself and his family.

"I enjoy what I'm doing here and I think we've been able to make a difference for the county," LaBelle said, but added: "There's more to getting elected than doing a good job and enjoying it."

In addition to his job as board chairman, LaBelle took a job earlier this year as a senior advisor to a regional planning group called the Chicago Metropolitan 2020 Project, which is studying economic development and transportation issues going into the new century.

Say Goodbye To Starvation Diets Forever Amazing Fat Fighting Pill Ends Hunger- Guarantees Super Fast Weight Loss!

U. S. Patent reveals weight loss of as much as 28 lbs. in 4 weeks and 48 lbs. in 8 weeks.

Las Vegas, NV - There now exists an all natural, bio-active weight-loss compound so powerful, so effective, so relentless in its awesome attack on bulging fatty deposits that it has virtually eliminated the need to diet.

News of this super pill from Asia is sweeping the country. The product is called FatStopper 2000 and it's dynamite!

In fact, thousands of people are now trying FatStopper 2000 and losing weight faster than ever before! People throughout the country are reporting incredible weight losses.

EXCESS CALORIES ARE FLUSHED RIGHT OUT OF YOUR BODY!

FatStopper 2000 ingredients were developed in Asia by medical researchers. The product contains no drugs whatsoever. It's ingredients are derived from a certain plant that grows primarily in Southern Asia.

The technical name is Amorphophallus Konjac which comes from the Konjac root.

Why the Konjac root? For years it was a widely held belief that extracts of the Konjac root had magical properties. When a person ate a small amount of this unique plant extract they would miraculously lose weight!

Researchers investigated this phenomenon and discovered, through sophisticated testing, that the plant extract did indeed cause the human body to bring about rapid weight-loss.

Shortly after taking small portions of the plant extract it dissolves into a completely natural gel which surrounds excess figure destroying calories and prevents them from forming body fat.

This action actually alters the time contact is made with the intestinal membrane! In addition and more importantly this remarkable plant gives you a natural feeling of fullness so you're not hungry while your excess weight comes tumbling off.

The research team was so impressed with the plant extract's abilities that they produced an amazing weight-loss pill which uses the key ingredients of this plant extract.

But what's even more impressive, the FatStopper 2000 pill actually surpasses the incredible powers of this plant extract because the FatStopper 2000 ingredients are so highly concentrated.

In fact, the FatStopper 2000 ingredient is so effective at producing massive weight-loss in record time that it was even awarded a patent for weight loss #3,973,008 by the United States Patent Office.

The clinical studies of both men and women revealed in this patent showed individual weight losses of as much as 28.65 pounds in 4 weeks - and as much as 48.5 pounds in 8 weeks: the average weight loss for all participants in that same time period was 33.9 pounds.

The FatStopper 2000 ingredient was awarded patents in other countries as well, including Japan, France, Germany and the United Kingdom.

Another U.S. Patent #3,856,945 was awarded to this incredible product for its added ability to reduce harmful cholesterol levels.

As Japanese medical doctor Mutsuhiko Kuroki explains: when Amorphophallus Konjac enters the small intestines it "Blocks cholesterol absorption - reduces the amount of fat absorbed - prevents a sudden increase in blood glucose levels and normalizes the body's cholesterol level".

Clinical studies on Amorphophallus Konjac have been conducted in some of the world's leading medical schools and Universities. The results of a number of scientific studies on this remarkable ingredient have already been published worldwide in major medical journals.

EAT ALL YOUR FAVORITE FOODS AND STILL LOSE WEIGHT (PILL DOES ALL THE WORK)

By now it should be obvious the FatStopper 2000 is no ordinary diet pill. Unlike other diet programs, once you've taken FatStopper 2000 there is really nothing else to do. You'll marvel at the way FatStopper 2000 literally reverses years of overeating.

You need only follow the simple instructions. That's it! You can continue to enjoy all those foods you love to eat. FatStopper 2000 makes it easy for you to simply not allow your body to consume and absorb excess calories. Period!

With FatStopper 2000 you can eat all of your favorite foods but because you will experience a natural feeling of fullness you will of course eat less, not feel hungry and thereby lose weight.

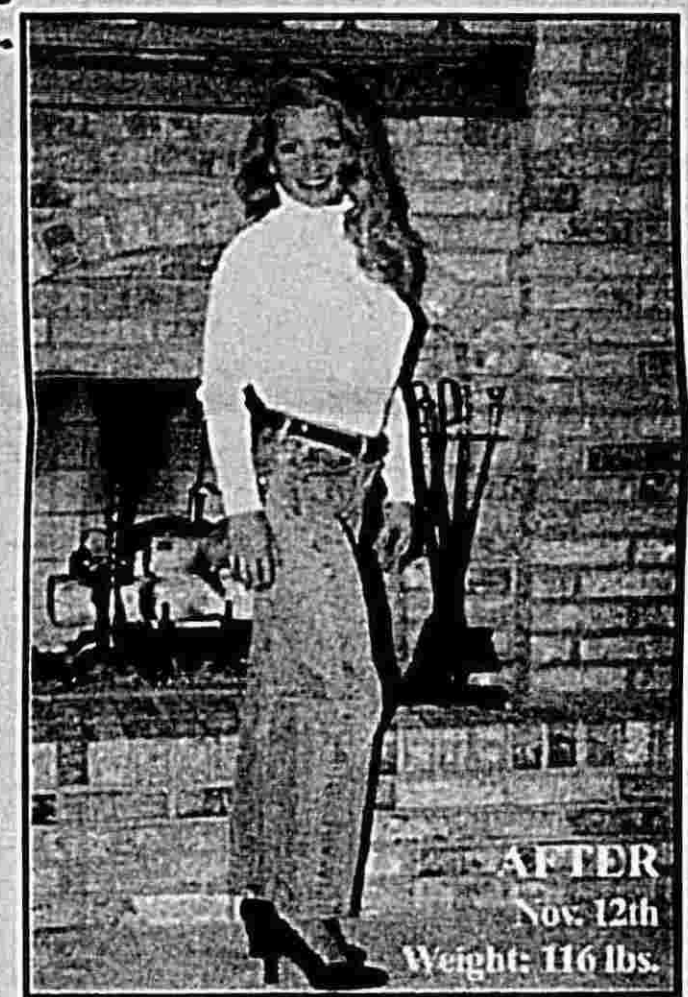

Each day you'll notice absolute visible results as your unwanted pounds of fat, flab and cellulite completely disappear.

There is even a low fat, low calorie diet that comes with the FatStopper 2000 pills that together make up the entire program for those who want to eat healthier and lose weight faster. The key, as everyone knows, is not feeling hungry while the excess pounds and inches disappear.

However, a word of caution is in order. Because FatStopper 2000 is so effective at removing years of ugly fatty deposits and because FatStopper 2000 has absolutely no side effects, there is a tendency for some people to over do it. Do not allow yourself to become too thin.

Without changing the way they eat, and by simply adding the FatStopper 2000 ingredient to their normal meals, clinical studies of both men and women revealed in U. S. Patent #3,973,008 showed individual weight losses of as much as 28.65 pounds in 4 weeks - and as much as 48.50 pounds in 8 weeks: the average weight loss for all participants in that same time period was 33.9 pounds.

"I lost 49 pounds in just 8 1/2 weeks!"

"I cannot stand dieting. To me, giving up the foods I love to eat could be worse than being fat. FatStopper 2000 was a real lifesaver! I lost 49 pounds in just 8 1/2 weeks and never felt like I was on a diet. I've never looked or felt better. I know I am much healthier, too! My friends are all green with envy."
-Tanna D., San Diego, CA

Results not typical. Results will vary.

If you start to lose weight too rapidly, limit your pill intake, or even skip a day or two. Have a goal in mind and try not to go beyond it.

Also, before starting this or any weight loss program you should check with your physician to determine that you are in normal health! If you exercise that's great. If you don't, remember that simple walking or moderate exercise such as light aerobics will not only speed up your metabolism but will help tighten and tone muscles and skin as your excess weight and inches begin to disappear.

COMPANY OFFERS EXTRAORDINARY GUARANTEE!

Swiss Labs 2000, Inc. is the only company in the United States authorized to sell FatStopper 2000. They have examined the clinical proof conducted on the FatStopper 2000 product thoroughly and are convinced that with the FatStopper 2000 program you can achieve the body of your dreams.

They don't care if you've tried to lose weight before and failed. They have documented the results of skeptical people who now swear by FatStopper 2000. Swiss Labs 2000 means it when they say you can lose a maximum amount of fat in record time.

In fact, as proof that they believe the FatStopper 2000 program is everything they say it is they offer an extraordinary guarantee, one they wouldn't dare make if they had even a single doubt!

If you place your order now and then follow the simple instructions for a period of 30 days from invoice, you must be completely satisfied with the dramatic results or just return the empty container and Swiss Labs 2000 will immediately send you back your entire purchase price excluding shipping and handling. No questions asked! What could be better than that! It's just that simple.

If you've tried to lose weight before and failed you no longer have an excuse. The FatStopper 2000 program is available, it's easy and it works!

Best of all...ordering the FatStopper 2000 program is simple, fast and reliable! Simply call Toll Free 1-800-700-7063 and ask for operator 3051 and order with your credit card. If you want to order by mail simply write your name and address and the words "FatStopper 2000" on any plain piece of paper and include your check or money order for the amount of FatStopper 2000 you want and mail it to:

Swiss Labs 2000, Inc.
2733 Lodestone Dept. 3051
Las Vegas, NV 89117

All orders are shipped within 72 hours of receipt by U.S. Priority Mail. Supply options: $39.95 for a full 30 day supply, $69.90 for a full 60 day supply (you save $10.00) and a full 90 day supply is just $99.85 (you save $20.00). Whatever quantity you order add an additional $5.95 per order for shipping and handling. Operators are standing by now to take your order. Please don't wait to order. Call now 1-800-700-7063 and ask for operator 3051. You really do deserve to be thin! Thank you.

How To Survive The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Dear Search,
I have been employed as a temporary for 2 weeks with a company who let me go today for discussing my salary with an employee. I was called in to the personnel department and told that this was grounds for termination. They said that it caused a big problem and therefore had to rid themselves of the problem. Don't you think that they should have given me a second chance? F.J. via e-mail

A: A second chance for what? The harm was already incurred. By your divulging the salary that you were hired at, I would imagine it set off a chain reaction that probably said, hey...this person is making more than all of us. Discussion of salary should go without saying as being grounds for termination. The typical scenario will be that a person tells you what they are making. If it is more than their salary, and the seniority is higher, it is going to cause big problems. The person making less is going to go to their boss and confront them with a "why is this person making more than me" attitude, thus putting the boss (who may or may not control the salary structure within the company) in a very uncomfortable situation. Then this disgruntled employee tells a few more people, who also find out that their salaries are not in line, and so on and so on, until you have the tumble-down effect. Before you know it, tension is high, and the company feels forced into making decisions that they were otherwise not prepared to do. Keep in mind that temporary (contract) employees typically can be paid higher than other employees mainly because they are not employees of the company and therefore not entitled to company benefits and such. Most companies have it in their employee handbooks that discussion of salary is immediate grounds for termination. I would suggest that you put this behind you. You learn something new every day. A mistake this costly will most likely be one you won't make again. Good luck.
